LBJ To Meet Three Western Leaders

British, Bonn, Italian Chiefs Will Visit U.S.

Separate Meetings To Be Held During Next Three Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced Sunday that the leaders of West Germany, Italy and Great Britain will make separate visits to the United States during the next three months to confer with President Johnson.

Andrew T. Hatcher, acting White House press secretary, announced the following schedule of visits, which, it was understood, Johnson arranged to emphasize his personal support of the Atlantic Alliance:

—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany will have a "working visit" with Johnson at the President's ranch near Johnson City, Texas on Dec. 27-28.

Signi Jan. 14-15

—President Antonio Segni of Italy will make a state visit to Washington on Jan. 14-15.

—Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home of Britain will come to Washington Feb. 12-13 for a working visit.

After conferring briefly here last week with President Charles de Gaulle of France, Johnson told newsmen the French leader would be returning early next year for detailed discussions of relations between France and the United States — relations which have been months by De Gaulle's go-it-alone policies on nuclear arms and other matters.

De Gaulle Visit Discussed

On the following day, however, White House Press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen that while it is Johnson's "hope and expectation" that De Gaulle will come back there have been no firm commitments or arrangements made as yet.

Sunday's announcement made no mention of De Gaulle and when questioned about the possible visit Hatcher said the matter is under discussion through normal diplomatic channels.

Strangler Kills Young Actress Karyn Kupcinet

Body Of Beautiful Brunette Found In Her Apartment

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A strangler killed actress Karyn Kupcinet, 22, beautiful, brunette daughter of Chicago newspaper columnist Irv Kupcinet, a surgeon reported after an autopsy Sunday.

Her nude body was found by friends Saturday night on a living-room couch in her second-floor apartment.

"Whoever did it got a three-day start on us," Lt. George Walsh, sheriff's homicide officer in charge of the investigation, said after the autopsy. He referred to the estimated time she had been dead when found.

The autopsy was performed at 6 a.m. by Dr. Harold Kade, assistant chief Los Angeles County autopsy surgeon.

He reported death was caused by "asphyxiation due to manual strangulation, which fractured the hyoid bone in the throat."

The hyoid is a U-shaped, horizontal bone at the base of the tongue.

The killer could have used either one or both of his hands, Dr. Kade said.

He said there was no immediate evidence of sexual assault but that further microscopic tests would be made.

No Clues Or Suspects

So far there are no clues and no suspects, Walsh said.

The sheriff's office threw 14 men into its intensified investigation — seven detectives, five crime lab technicians and two fingerprint experts.

The detectives, Walsh said, were questioning Miss Kupcinet's "tremendous" number of friends, acquaintances and associates in the television, acting and writing fields.

Walsh described Andrew Prine, 26, lanky, 6-foot-2 television actor seen as a costarring rodeo rider in NBC's "Wide Country," as her boy friend.

"He says he doesn't know anything about what happened," Walsh said.

Meanwhile Kupcinet, Chicago Sun-Times columnist, arrived by plane early Sunday from Chicago, where he is known in night-club and television circles as "Mr. Chicago."

With him, Walsh said, came a brother, an attorney and two friends.

Father "Pretty Distraught"

"Kupcinet indicated he would make arrangements to have her body shipped back to Chicago," the homicide officer said. "The man is pretty distraught."

Walsh said he understood Miss Kupcinet had been here about two years. Schooled at Wellesley College and New York's famed Actor's Studio, she had appeared on the stage and, in television, the Red Skelton, U.S. Steel, "Hawaiian Eye," "Surfside 6," Gertrude Berg and Donna Reed shows.

Jerry Lewis, with whom she recently appeared on television, said: "She was a vibrant young kid. She had a great dramatic future. I've known her since she Pravda Hints Oswald Was Spy For U. S.

Red Paper Reports Embassy Contacts During Soviet Stay

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Communist party organ Pravda hinted Sunday that Lee Harvey Oswald, the slain accused assassin of President Kennedy, was an American spy during his 2½ years in the Soviet Union.

The newspaper said Oswald maintained constant contact with the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. It quoted a Fort Worth stenographer who helped Oswald prepare a manuscript as saying he insinuated he had been an American agent.

At the same time, reliable sources reported that Oswald slashed his wrists shortly after he arrived in Moscow in 1959 and was hospitalized for several days. These sources could not say whether Oswald was attempting to commit suicide or if the act was simply an attention getting gesture.

New Propaganda Tack

The spy charge was a new tack for Soviet propagandists. The day after Kennedy was slain, Russian newspapers called Oswald a dupe of right-wing elements in the United States and said he killed the President because of the late Chief Executive's anti - discrimination policies.

When Oswald was himself shot and killed by a self-appointed executioner last Sunday the Soviet press blamed the crime on the Dallas, Tex., police and said the murder was designed to silence Oswald so that he could not implicate other right-wingers in the assassination.

Married Russian Woman

The Soviet propaganda machine accused the United States of trying to label Oswald, who married a Russian woman while in the Soviet Union, a Communist and to implicate the Communist party in the death of the President.

Oswald is known to have been in the Soviet Union from October, 1959, when he unsuccessfully applied for Soviet citizenship, until May, 1962, when the American embassy gave him back his passport and issued his Russian wife and child non-quota visia to enter the United States.

Heavy Vote Cast Despite Sniper Fire

Betancourt Party Candidate Takes Substantial Lead

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Death threats, sniper fire and sabotage failed Sunday to prevent a massive outpouring of voters in Venezuela's presidential election. Retiring President Romulo Betancourt's expected successor took the lead in first scattered returns.

The Castroite underground increased its terrorism in the closing hours of balloting, but officials estimated a turnout of 95 to 96 per cent of the electorate in this strategic Latin-American country long besieged by pro-Communist partisans.

Unofficial returns from scattered polling places in Caracas and eastern and western states gave Raul Leoni of Betancourt's Democratic Action party a substantial lead.

Leoni had 623 votes followed by Social Christian Rafael Caldera with 183. The Social Christians are allied with the Democratic Action party in the government coalition.

Jovito Villalba of the Republican Democratic Union, Leoni's major opponent on a national scale, had 117 votes.

Both Betancourt and Leoni declared the Castroite campaign to sabotage the election a failure. They said they were gratified by the large turnout.

Sniper fire on election day killed an armed forces intelligence agent and wounded his wife as they left their home.

Police fought a gun battle with snipers elsewhere in Caracas.

At Maracay, 65 miles west of Caracas, snipers fired on an army patrol and wounded an undetermined number of soldiers.

A bomb went off near the home of the presidential candidate of the Social Christian party and a girl was wounded in Caracas.

At least three men carrying phosphorus bombs and sidearms were arrested near voting stations. Noise bombs went off in various parts of the capital.

About 10,000 police and national guardsmen were on duty in Caracas and about 40,000 others were stationed throughout the country to protect the voters as they cast their colored ballots and later the tabulators once they began counting after the 6 p.m. poll-closing deadline.

Cameraman For UPI Shot

CARACAS, Venezual (UPI)—Pro-Castro Communist terrorists attacked a police headquarters in the Plaza Candelaria Sunday night. Several bullets smashed into the United Press International bureau in an adjoining building, critically wounding American cameraman Carl Warner of Miami.

Lights and power in the bureau were knocked out by the shots.

Warner is a cameraman employed by UPI newsfilm on a special assignment.

UPI reporter Tony Valbuena and photographer Carlos Schiebeck of Los Angeles, Calif., took Warner by car to an emergency hospital. He appeared to have been hit above the heart.

BLFE Demands 25% Wage Hike, Other Benefits

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen served demands Sunday on the nation's railroads for a 25 per cent wage increase, supplemental pensions and company-paid health coverage.

The brotherhood is the key union involved in the long work-rules dispute between operating railroad unions and the railroads. An arbitration board issued recommendations last Tuesday that could involve the elimination of up to 33,000 firemen's jobs.

The five operating unions and the railroads were to settle wage structure and other issues between themselves under the emergency rail arbitration law passed by Congress last August to halt the threat of a strike then.

Failure of negotiations could result in the dispute being thrown back into the lap of Congress Feb. 25, the expiration date of the rail arbitration law.

H.E. Gilbert, president of the 78,000-member BLF & E, said the last wage increase for locomotive engineers, locomotive helpers (firemen), hostlers and hostler helpers represented by the brotherhood became effective March 1, 1961.

The demand for a 25 per cent increase in all basic daily rates carried with it the demand for a daily earning minimum of $40 for engineers and $35 for firemen in all classes of road service.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Seven members of the American Nazi party picketed the White House Sunday protesting the appointment of Chief Justice Earl Warren as head of the commission to investigate the assassination of President Kennedy.

Man Jailed For Threat Against Johnson's Life

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert A. Weatherington, 40, was being held here Sunday on a charge of having made an oral threat against the life of President Johnson.

Weatherington, who has a record of erratic behavior, was arrested by Secret Service agents at his home Saturday night.

Secret Service agents said Weatherington complained that he had been discharged by the Corps of Army Engineers because of a nervous condition. He alleged that the President and heads of three local banks were involved in a news blackout on files which would clear his record.

The agents reported that Weatherington told them that unless the blackout were raised by the President, Johnson would have to die.

Last week Weatherington picketed the banks and the Department of Justice. He told the agents he planned to picket the White House, the home of assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman and the grave of the late President Kennedy this week.

The man will be arraigned in General Sessions Court Monday.

JFK Memorial Held In London

LONDON (AP) — Londoners jammed the sidewalks around St. Paul's Cathedral on Sunday as the nation's leaders attended a national service of memorial for President John F. Kennedy.

Loudspeakers boomed out to hushed crowds during a sermon delivered by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey.

Inside the cathedral was a congregation of 3,000, headed by government ministers, diplomats, city of London dignitaries and the queen's husband, Prince Philip, representing the crown. The queen, now expecting her fourth child, attended a memorial service at Windsor Castle.

Princess Margaret, the lord mayor of London, former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and American service chaplains also crowded into St. Paul's.

Dallas Police Remain Silent On Ruby Probe

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Police remained silent Sunday about their own extensive investigation into how strip-tease club owner Jack Ruby reached and killed the man accused of assassinating John F. Kennedy.

Meanwhile, officers were expected to require much time to check through a mass of documentary clues left behind by Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, the man police say killed the president.

The city police investigation by top officers extended beyond the police who were in the City Hall basement one week ago Sunday when Ruby shot Oswald with a .38-caliber revolver.

The FBI is now in charge of the physical evidence and is releasing almost no information, although a presidential commission may make it public later.

Ruby, 52, darted out of a crowd and shot Oswald point-blank in the abdomen as officers prepared to transfer the accused killer between jails to await trial.

Ruby's attorney, Tom Howard, quoted Ruby as saying he entered the basement by simply walking unchallenged past two officers guarding the entrance.

Asst. Police Chief Charles Batchelor declined comment on Ruby's story.

The possibility that Oswald could forge documents at will was brought up in a copyright story by the Dallas Times Herald.

Oswald was an excellent photographer. A negative of a blank draft registration card was found on him, the newspaper said. It also said he carried a draft card in a name other than his own.

He worked for a time for a printing company and possibly could have reproduced documents in that way.

Oswald left voluminous notes about his activities, particularly concerning a pro-Castro group called the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. The notes contained many names.

The Times Herald reported without naming the source that one letter came from Communist headquarters in New York and thanked Oswald for the work he had done, the newspaper said.

Princess Grace Arrives; Hopes To See Jackie

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco flew here Sunday for a one-week visit. She said she hoped to go to Washington and extend condolences to the family of President John F. Kennedy.

Wearing an oyster white suit, black velvet hat and a mink stole, the former movie star was met at Idlewild Airport by her mother, Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

She told newsmen the primary reason for her trip was to "take care of some family business."

But she said that if President Kennedy's widow is "willing and able to receive me," she would go to Washington to extend condolences of her family and the people of Monaco on the president's assassination.

Thanksgiving Traffic Deaths Near 500 Mark

By United Press International

The nation's highway death toll for the long Thanksgiving weekend headed toward the 500 mark Sunday, but the final toll was expected to be only slightly more than average for a normal November weekend.

A United Press International count at 9:30 p.m. EST showed at least 468 persons killed in traffic since the holiday weekend began at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The breakdown:

Traffic	468
Fires	35
Planes	19
Miscellaneous	68
Total	590

California with 41 traffic deaths and Texas with 34 led the other states as usual. There were 28 deaths in Illinois, 25 in Michigan, 24 in Pennsylvania and 21 each in North Carolina and Ohio.

The National Safety Council, which does not make an estimate of the number of traffic victims for a Thanksgiving weekend, said during a normal 102-hour weekend period in November an average of 472 persons could be expected to be killed on the streets and highways.

60 Vietnamese Slain, Wounded But Hold Fort

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Sixty South Vietnamese civil guards, with their wives and children, battled a human wave Communist attack early Sunday until every man in the post was dead or wounded.

Inside the bloodstained earthworks, 42 civil guards died and 15 were wounded. Three are missing. About 20 women and children also perished, and many more were wounded.

Despite the slaughter, part of the triangular fort was held all through the night, and the 15 surviving civil guards still were fighting when reinforcements arrived at noon.

No enemy bodies were found, but it is believed as many as 5 dead Viet Cong may have been carried off.

The fierce attack was against a post called Bau Cao, north of the city of Tay Ninh, about 60 miles northwest of here. The post lies in a barren, sun-baked plain near the northern slope of the Black Virgin Mountain.

U.S. sources said the Viet Cong, several hundred men strong, slipped up to the post Saturday night, attacking from the north. The enemy was equipped with heavy mortars and 57-mm recoilless cannon, with which about 1,200 shells were slammed into the fort.

A nearby strategic hamlet which the fort was responsible for protecting was not attacked.

The attack began shortly before midnight. The civil guards radioed for help, and took up positions in mud blockhouses at the three corners of the post, and along its low walls. A mortar position in the center of the post kept firing all night.

Somehow, enemy guerrillas crossed the spikes lined around the post, and cut their way through the barbed wire. Two of the blockhouses and the wall between them fell, giving the enemy a clear field of fire into the post.

Kennedy Coverage Cost Networks $28.7 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The intense coverage by television and radio of the events surrounding President John F. Kennedy's assassination cost the broadcasting networks about $28.7 million, an industry source estimated Sunday.

The magazine Broadcasting gave this breakdown on lost revenue and added costs for the television and radio networks during the four-day, no-commercials period:

Pre-emption of television network programming and spot and local commercials — $18.8 million.

Pre-emption of radio network programming and radio spot and local commercials — $6.8 million.

Expenditures by the television and radio networks in providing coverage — $3.1 million.

The magazine noted that these figures do not take into account $3.3 million in commissions lost by advertising agencies and sales representatives and an undetermined amount of added coverage expense incurred by individual stations and station groups.

In an editorial praising the coverage, Broadcasting said: "No government official had to tell the broadcasters what to do. No body of government officials could have told them how to do it. In a time when the trend of federal regulation has been running toward tightening editorial control, broadcasters made their own best case for editorial freedom."

Four Children, Dad Die In Home Blaze

BROOKSVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—An early morning fire swept through a home in this northern Kentucky community early Sunday, killing four children and their disabled father.

Bracken County Deputy Sheriff Hamer Jett said the two-story building had begun to collapse when fire equipment from the town and two nearby communities arrived on the scene. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Jett identified the victims as Earl Cooper, 41; his three sons, Dale Moore Cooper, 9; Kelly, 4; and Russell, 18 months; and his daughter, Cathlene Anne, 5.

Cooper's wife Joann, 28, was in a hospital at nearby Maysville, Ky., where she had given birth to the couple's fifth child Saturday — a boy.

Mrs. Kennedy, Children Return To White House

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children flew back to Washington Sunday night from a sad Thanksgiving reunion with the family of her assassinated husband.

Jacqueline, six-year-old Caroline and three-year-old John Jr., landed in an Air Force jet at National Airport at 7 p.m. EST and drove directly to the White House.

She and her children ended their Thanksgiving stay at Hyannis Port, Mass., when they drove to Barnstable Municipal Airport from the Kennedy family compound.

The former first lady was accompanied by her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, two attendants, and a nurse.

A large amount of luggage and two dogs were loaded on the plane shortly before the state police-escorted car bringing Mrs. Kennedy stopped at the apron where the plane was parked.

Mrs. Kennedy, dressed in black with a blue-black veil, looked neither left nor right as she climbed the ramp to the waiting plane. Two secret service men followed her inside.

A family spokesman said former Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, the late President's parents, would leave for Palm Beach, Fla. Monday.

Kennedy Coverage Cost Networks $28.7 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The intense coverage by television and radio of the events surrounding President John F. Kennedy's assassination cost the broadcasting networks about $28.7 million, an industry source estimated Sunday.

The magazine Broadcasting gave this breakdown on lost revenue and added costs for the television and radio networks during the four-day, no-commercials period:

Pre-emption of television network programming and spot and local commercials — $18.8 million.

Pre-emption of radio network programming and radio spot and local commercials — $6.8 million.

Expenditures by the television and radio networks in providing coverage — $3.1 million.

The magazine noted that these figures do not take into account $3.3 million in commissions lost by advertising agencies and sales representatives and an undetermined amount of added coverage expense incurred by individual stations and station groups.

In an editorial praising the coverage, Broadcasting said: "No government official had to tell the broadcasters what to do. No body of government officials could have told them how to do it. In a time when the trend of federal regulation has been running toward tightening editorial control, broadcasters made their own best case for editorial freedom."

JFK Memorial Held In London

LONDON (AP) — Londoners jammed the sidewalks around St. Paul's Cathedral on Sunday as the nation's leaders attended a national service of memorial for President John F. Kennedy.

Loudspeakers boomed out to hushed crowds during a sermon delivered by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey.

Inside the cathedral was a congregation of 3,000, headed by government ministers, diplomats, city of London dignitaries and the queen's husband, Prince Philip, representing the crown. The queen, now expecting her fourth child, attended a memorial service at Windsor Castle.

Princess Margaret, the lord mayor of London, former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and American service chaplains also crowded into St. Paul's.

Four Children, Dad Die In Home Blaze

BROOKSVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—An early morning fire swept through a home in this northern Kentucky community early Sunday, killing four children and their disabled father.

Bracken County Deputy Sheriff Hamer Jett said the two-story building had begun to collapse when fire equipment from the town and two nearby communities arrived on the scene. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Jett identified the victims as Earl Cooper, 41; his three sons, Dale Moore Cooper, 9; Kelly, 4; and Russell, 18 months; and his daughter, Cathlene Anne, 5.

Cooper's wife Joann, 28, was in a hospital at nearby Maysville, Ky., where she had given birth to the couple's fifth child Saturday — a boy.

Dallas Police Remain Silent On Ruby Probe

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Police remained silent Sunday about their own extensive investigation into how strip-tease club owner Jack Ruby reached and killed the man accused of assassinating John F. Kennedy.

Meanwhile, officers were expected to require much time to check through a mass of documentary clues left behind by Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, the man police say killed the president.

The city police investigation by top officers extended beyond the police who were in the City Hall basement one week ago Sunday when Ruby shot Oswald with a .38-caliber revolver.

The FBI is now in charge of the physical evidence and is releasing almost no information, although a presidential commission may make it public later.

Ruby, 52, darted out of a crowd and shot Oswald point-blank in the abdomen as officers prepared to transfer the accused killer between jails to await trial.

Ruby's attorney, Tom Howard, quoted Ruby as saying he entered the basement by simply walking unchallenged past two officers guarding the entrance.

Asst. Police Chief Charles Batchelor declined comment on Ruby's story.

The possibility that Oswald could forge documents at will was brought up in a copyright story by the Dallas Times Herald.

Oswald was an excellent photographer. A negative of a blank draft registration card was found on him, the newspaper said. It also said he carried a draft card in a name other than his own.

He worked for a time for a printing company and possibly could have reproduced documents in that way.

Oswald left voluminous notes about his activities, particularly concerning a pro-Castro group called the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. The notes contained many names.

The Times Herald reported without naming the source that one letter came from Communist headquarters in New York and thanked Oswald for the work he had done, the newspaper said.

Cartoonist Hatlo Dies At Age 65

CARMEL, Calif. (AP)—James (Jimmy) Hatlo, whose "They'll Do It Every Time" and "Little Iodine" cartoons drew smiles around the world for a quarter-century, died Sunday at the age of 65.

Doctors said the Hearst King Features syndicated cartoonist died of a heart attack. He had been ailing for several years.

His cartoons were appearing in more than 700 newspapers around the world at the time of his death at Carmel Community Hospital, 125 miles south of San Francisco.

Princess Grace Arrives; Hopes To See Jackie

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco flew here Sunday for a one-week visit. She said she hoped to go to Washington and extend condolences to the family of President John F. Kennedy.

Wearing an oyster white suit, black velvet hat and a mink stole, the former movie star was met at Idlewild Airport by her mother, Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

She told newsmen the primary reason for her trip was to "take care of some family business."

But she said that if President Kennedy's widow is "willing and able to receive me," she would go to Washington to extend condolences of her family and the people of Monaco on the president's assassination.

Thanksgiving Traffic Deaths Near 500 Mark

By United Press International

The nation's highway death toll for the long Thanksgiving weekend headed toward the 500 mark Sunday, but the final toll was expected to be only slightly more than average for a normal November weekend.

A United Press International count at 9:30 p.m. EST showed at least 468 persons killed in traffic since the holiday weekend began at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The breakdown:

Traffic	468
Fires	35
Planes	19
Miscellaneous	68
Total	590

California with 41 traffic deaths and Texas with 34 led the other states as usual. There were 28 deaths in Illinois, 25 in Michigan, 24 in Pennsylvania and 21 each in North Carolina and Ohio.

The National Safety Council, which does not make an estimate of the number of traffic victims for a Thanksgiving weekend, said during a normal 102-hour weekend period in November an average of 472 persons could be expected to be killed on the streets and highways.

Six Persons Killed In West Va. Crash

GLENVILLE, W.Va. (UPI)—Six persons were killed and one seriously injured in a two-car crash on U. S. 33 about four miles northeast of here Sunday night.

Shinnston State Police identified the victims as driver Russell Ray Richards, his wife Wilda, their son, Ray and driver Newton Carr Peterson, 58, his wife, Dorothy, 44, and their son, Larry Allen Peterson, 19, all of the Glenville area.

60 Vietnamese Slain, Wounded But Hold Fort

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Sixty South Vietnamese civil guards, with their wives and children, battled a human wave Communist attack early Sunday until every man in the post was dead or wounded.

Inside the bloodstained earthworks, 42 civil guards died and 15 were wounded. Three are missing. About 20 women and children also perished, and many more were wounded.

Despite the slaughter, part of the triangular fort was held all through the night, and the 15 surviving civil guards still were fighting when reinforcements arrived at noon.

No enemy bodies were found, but it is believed as many as 5 dead Viet Cong may have been carried off.

The fierce attack was against a post called Bau Cao, north of the city of Tay Ninh, about 60 miles northwest of here. The post lies in a barren, sun-baked plain near the northern slope of the Black Virgin Mountain.

U.S. sources said the Viet Cong, several hundred men strong, slipped up to the post Saturday night, attacking from the north. The enemy was equipped with heavy mortars and 57-mm recoilless cannon, with which about 1,200 shells were slammed into the fort.

A nearby strategic hamlet which the fort was responsible for protecting was not attacked.

The attack began shortly before midnight. The civil guards radioed for help, and took up positions in mud blockhouses at the three corners of the post, and along its low walls. A mortar position in the center of the post kept firing all night.

Somehow, enemy guerrillas crossed the spikes lined around the post, and cut their way through the barbed wire. Two of the blockhouses and the wall between them fell, giving the enemy a clear field of fire into the post.

Mrs. Kennedy, Children Return To White House

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children flew back to Washington Sunday night from a sad Thanksgiving reunion with the family of her assassinated husband.

Jacqueline, six-year-old Caroline and three-year-old John Jr., landed in an Air Force jet at National Airport at 7 p.m. EST and drove directly to the White House.

She and her children ended their Thanksgiving stay at Hyannis Port, Mass., when they drove to Barnstable Municipal Airport from the Kennedy family compound.

The former first lady was accompanied by her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, two attendants, and a nurse.

A large amount of luggage and two dogs were loaded on the plane shortly before the state police-escorted car bringing Mrs. Kennedy stopped at the apron where the plane was parked.

Mrs. Kennedy, dressed in black with a blue-black veil, looked neither left nor right as she climbed the ramp to the waiting plane. Two secret service men followed her inside.

A family spokesman said former Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, the late President's parents, would leave for Palm Beach, Fla. Monday.

Mass Burial For 118 Plane Victims Looms

STE. THERESE, Que. (UPI) —A hard freeze Sunday slowed efforts to recover remains of 118 persons killed in Friday night's jet airliner crash here. A mass burial at or near the scene appeared likely.

Near-zero temperatures during the night left the muddy ground rock - hard, but it warmed up later in the day.

A temporary morgue was set up in a hut at a Canadian army ordnance corps camp nearby.

Officials were checking with relatives of the dead to determine whether they preferred a single funeral service here for all the victims, or continued efforts to identify the fragmented remains. The latter appeared hopeless.

The freeze which followed Saturday's snowstorm in the area also all but halted salvage of wreckage from the crash, the worst in Canada's aviation history. Investigators feared that by prying pieces out of the frozen mud they might destroy clues to the cause of the accident.

The possibility has been raised that the Trans - Canada Airlines (TCA) jet exploded, either while still in the air or on impact. Police were checking out that angle, but would not comment on their findings.

Police meanwhile closed off this town 20 miles north of Montreal to all but its residents or officials obliged to come here. They re - routed traffic around the town and turned back hundreds of Sunday drivers out for what they hoped would be a look at the wreckage.

Meat For School Use Condemned

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — About 30 tons of frozen meat intended for use in school cafeterias in Prince Georges and St. Mary's Counties have been condemned.

Dr. Daniel L. Finucane, director of the Prince Georges Board of Health, said the supply of ground and thinly sliced beef had been officially condemned at its storage place, the Merchants Terminal off Cabin Branch Road, Landover, Md.

State health officials theorized that the meat thawed and was refrozen several months ago before reaching the Landover storage lockers from a processing plant in New Jersey.

Finucane said that to his knowledge no one had been served any of the meat.

The Maryland State Board of Education bought the meat, valued at more than $25,000 from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which acquired it under provisions of the Surplus Commodities Act.

President Places Roses At Kennedy Graveside

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson and his family Sunday joined the thousands of people who thronged to pay their respects at the graveside of John F. Kennedy. The President placed a bouquet of red roses among the other flowers banked there.

The Chief Executive and the First Lady, accompanied by their teen-age daughters, Lucy and Linda, walked slowly up the green slope at Arlington National Cemetery, with the Chief Executive cradling the bouquet against his chest.

The President, who made the pilgrimage after attending church services with his family, slowly bent and placed the flowers on the ground. He straightened up, stood with head bowed for some 30 seconds, then slowly walked away.

Thousands already were in the line leading toward the grave site, just as they have been since the President was buried last Monday on a site overlooking the Potomac River and the Lincoln Memorial.

On Saturday an estimated 110,000 people visited the grave and hundreds had to be turned away when the gates closed at 5 p.m.

During services at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, the President heard the pastor, the Rev. William Baxter, say that the death of President Kennedy "has melted a lot of people, it has opened doors."

He made the remark after recalling that he had read news reports about a man who resigned from a White Citizens Council because he felt extremism had been responsible for the assassination.

"This man was given the voice of an angel as he spoke," the minister said.

Homage also was paid the late President by several of his old colleagues in Congress. The tributes came in radio-television reports and press statements directed at constituents back home.

Erhard Wants Troops To Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of Germany said Sunday he would have the "greatest objections" to American troop withdrawals from Europe.

"The presence of American troops is a strong comfort and reassurance for the German public. For the German public the American forces are a security and a safeguard in itself," the new German head of government said on NBC's "Meet the Press," a network radio-television interview.

The interview was taped in Washington where Erhard attended President John F. Kennedy's funeral.

Erhard said he is certain there will be no changes in relations between the two countries because of the shift on the top of the U.S. administration.

"President Johnson is known to me and he knows Germany," Erhard added.

Erhard is to return here in January for detailed discussions with Johnson.

"We called her name and thought she might be asleep because the TV was on," Goddard said. The TV's sound was turned down. They turned on the lights and saw the body.

Holiday Traffic Accidents Kill 11 In Maryland

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents claimed at least 11 lives in Maryland over the four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend. Five persons died in a comparable non-holiday period.

Stephen Buehr, 23, of Darien, Conn., died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday in a traffic accident an hour before his wedding.

Police said Buehr was struck by a car as he was riding a motorcycle in Baltimore to pick up the wedding rings. He died Sunday in Maryland General Hospital of head injuries.

Buehr was to have married Miss Ann Miller of Baltimore.

Mrs. Dorothy Linton, 37, of Hyattsville, was fatally injured Saturday night when the car in which she was riding was involved in a four-car crash on the Baltimore-Washington Expressway.

Richard Fleegal, 44, of Anne Arundel County, was killed Saturday when he was struck by two cars while crossing Ritchie Highway.

More Diem Family Property Seized

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam's new government announced Sunday it has confiscated additional property owned by the family of overthrown President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The latest seizures, valued at more than $100,000, were a villa and several houses in the coastal city of Qui Nhon owned by one of Diem's brothers, Ngo Ngo Dinh Can.

Can, warlord of central Viet Nam before his brother was overthrown in a military coup and killed Nov. 1, is in the custody of Vietnamese authorities. He was turned over to them by U.S. officials Nov. 6 after he tried to seek asylum at the American consulate in the northern city of Hue.

Congress, In 12th Month, Under Diverse Pressures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress enters the 12th month of its current session Monday under conflicting pressures to go home quickly and to get as much as possible done before the year-end recess.

Aides to President Johnson are urging a quickening pace between now and the Christmas-New Year holiday tentatively slated to start Dec. 20.

Johnson has placed civil rights legislation and the tax-cut bill at the top of his legislative priority list — as the late President Kennedy did.

From a practical standpoint, administration leaders recognize it is all but impossible to complete passage of either in 1963. But they want the legislators to stick around long enough to prepare the way for quick action in 1964.

But some of the 535 Senate and House members talk of winding up the first session of the 88th Congress as soon as possible—perhaps in 10 days—and getting home.

Reflecting the views of the legislators, the veteran Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., suggested a prompt clean-up of lagging annual appropriations and adjournment "to allow the new President to get his house in order and prepare his future plan."

Noting the Senate will set aside Dec. 11 for eulogies for Kennedy, Ellender said in a weekend radio report that he expects adjournment immediately thereafter.

The Senate Finance Committee resumes its public hearings Monday on the House-passed $11-billion tax cut and expects to conclude its taking of testimony on Dec. 6. But there appears slight chance that this bulky bill can reach the Senate for action before the new session in January.

The highly controversial civil rights bill is locked in the powerful House Rules Committee with indications that efforts by House leaders to pry it out for House action also must wait until January.

House leaders expect to call up and pass Monday a bill which would provide an office and staff for Mrs. John F. Kennedy for six months and the lifetime free-mail privilege accorded presidential widows.

The Senate is in a Thanksgiving recess which will end at noon Tuesday.

The latest seizures, valued at more than $100,000, were a villa and several houses in the coastal city of Qui Nhon owned by one of Diem's brothers, Ngo Ngo Dinh Can.

Can, warlord of central Viet Nam before his brother was overthrown in a military coup and killed Nov. 1, is in the custody of Vietnamese authorities. He was turned over to them by U.S. officials Nov. 6 after he tried to seek asylum at the American consulate in the northern city of Hue.

Congress, In 12th Month, Under Diverse Pressures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress enters the 12th month of its current session Monday under conflicting pressures to go home quickly and to get as much as possible done before the year-end recess.

Aides to President Johnson are urging a quickening pace between now and the Christmas-New Year holiday tentatively slated to start Dec. 20.

Johnson has placed civil rights legislation and the tax-cut bill at the top of his legislative priority list — as the late President Kennedy did.

From a practical standpoint, administration leaders recognize it is all but impossible to complete passage of either in 1963. But they want the legislators to stick around long enough to prepare the way for quick action in 1964.

But some of the 535 Senate and House members talk of winding up the first session of the 88th Congress as soon as possible—perhaps in 10 days—and getting home.

Reflecting the views of the legislators, the veteran Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., suggested a prompt clean-up of lagging annual appropriations and adjournment "to allow the new President to get his house in order and prepare his future plan."

Noting the Senate will set aside Dec. 11 for eulogies for Kennedy, Ellender said in a weekend radio report that he expects adjournment immediately thereafter.

The Senate Finance Committee resumes its public hearings Monday on the House-passed $11-billion tax cut and expects to conclude its taking of testimony on Dec. 6. But there appears slight chance that this bulky bill can reach the Senate for action before the new session in January.

The highly controversial civil rights bill is locked in the powerful House Rules Committee with indications that efforts by House leaders to pry it out for House action also must wait until January.

House leaders expect to call up and pass Monday a bill which would provide an office and staff for Mrs. John F. Kennedy for six months and the lifetime free-mail privilege accorded presidential widows.

The Senate is in a Thanksgiving recess which will end at noon Tuesday.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why is society so merciless to the middle-aged husband who leaves his nagging, selfish, overweight wife to enjoy the company of some pleasant woman who has the sense to praise him occasionally and makes him feel like a man?

How could his business colleagues honor him with a dinner when he leaves his socks on the floor, blows his nose too hard and forgets to pick up the dry cleaning? Such a man, of course, is not worthy of affection. A pat on the arm in public will help get across the idea to friends that they are a devoted couple. But if he wants more than a peck on the cheek when they get home she says, "At our age? You must be a sex maniac".

Millions of husbands would probably take a powder tomorrow if they didn't fear the label of "heel" for walking out and leaving "the poor thing" with the children, the house, the car, and the bank account. Me — I just left. — COLOR ME GONE

DEAR FRIEND: There's no point in trying to reach you since you are already Gone. But to other husbands who feel as you do, I'd like to suggest that you spell out your feelings, frankly and promptly, not to ME but to your wife — or should I color you yellow?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've never written a letter to a newspaper in all my life, but I simply must comment on the letter from the woman who signed herself, "Top-notch Secretary." In my opinion she is a Top-Notch Trouble-Maker who has, I suspect, something beyond a professional interest in her boss.

I, too, work for a "terrific guy" but he is married and has a family, which means he's off-limits so far as I am concerned. I don't care if his wife phones him 30 times a day. If the calls annoy him the HE can tell her. Furthermore, her presence in the office is of no concern to me. She can pitch a tent in the reception room. I couldn't care less.

A Top-Notch secretary knows what to keep her nose out of. And at the head of that list is Family Matters. — PEACE IT'S WONDERFUL

DEAR WONDERFUL: Thank you for an astute observation. You'd make an excellent member for my recently formed "Mind Your Own Business Club". Welcome to the fold.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You have dealt repeatedly with the problem of friends and relatives who insist on visiting the sick in hospitals — but one more time won't hurt. I'm a nurse who recently had surgery so I now understand this problem from all angles.

Some hospitalized folks enjoy visitors. It's good for their morale These people are the aged, the handicapped, children who must be confined for long periods of time, and fracture cases on the mend. Unfortunately, they are not the ones who get the company.

Usually the woman who had a baby this morning or the man who had a coronary last night get the long line of visitors.

When I was a hospital patient I entertained more guests in my room than I ever entertained at home. I was happy to check out of the hospital so I could get some rest.

Please, Ann, say it again. Do your hospitalized friends and relatives a favor and leave them alone unless they send for you. — R. N. OF PA.

DEAR R. N.: I am happy to say it again. "Do your hospitalized friends and relatives a favor and leave them alone unless they send for you".

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

1963, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Although we have been married for a number of years my husband's two sisters continue to write him at the office.

Wilfred is a busy man and reads the letters hurriedly, then tosses them away. When his sisters come to visit at Christmas they complain bitterly that they never hear from us. I tell them we never hear from them either. Then they say they write to the office and that they assume Wilfred brings the letters home. Wilfred confesses he meant to bring the letters home but somehow he didn't get around to it. Later, when we are alone, he tells me the letters are pure drivel and he wouldn't waste my time.

I have two brothers but I would never insult their wives by writing to them at the office. Should I come right out and tell my sisters-in-law how I feel when they bring up the subject in a few weeks as they are bound to?

VIRGINIA BEACH

DEAR VIRGINIA: If some of you readers were as frank with the people who give you trouble as you are with me, your problems would be solved right now.

By all means tell your husband's sisters if they want replies to their letters they should write to the house. Tell them that you have nothing whatever to do with office mail nor do you wish to.

DEAR ANN: Our only child, Joanne, is a bright, beautiful, well-behaved two-year-old. When we have guests over she always stays up until the guests leave. When we go visiting friends we always take Joanne with us.

Recently I've heard some friends say they think it is just terrible that we "drag" this child wherever we go.

We are usually home by midnight and then she sleeps until about 10 the next morning. We think it does no harm. What is your opinion? — MILLIE

DEAR MILLIE: Sorry, but Joanne should not be spending evenings with grown ups at home or elsewhere. You do this child no favor by feeding her a steady diet of adult conversation. Your friends are right to complain.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♡ A K J 9 4 ◇ A K J 8 6 2 ♣ 4 3
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	?

What action do you take?

A.—Three diamonds, intending to bid and rebid hearts if circumstances permit. It is not necessary to take any more drastic action at this particular time inasmuch as a game forcing signal has already been flashed.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ A K 2 ♡ K Q 10 3 ◇ K J 5 ♣ Q 7 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—One heart, with two hearts as a very close second choice. This may come as a slight disappointment to those who have heeded my earlier advice to make direct bids whenever possible. A three no trump bid is, therefore, tempting. The top limit of a three no trump bid is 18 points. On this hand, however, we have an additional ten and the added factor that the queen of clubs, in view of partner's bid, is apt to be worth more than the two points normally assigned to it. While our preference has been for an approach bid, we would not look down our noses at anyone who chose a three no trump bid.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ K 8 7 4 ♡ A 9 2 ◇ 7 3 ♣ K Q 6 2
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ◇	Double	Pass	1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Despite the fact that you are pleased with partner's response, your double is of minimum proportions and it is not appropriate for you to make a free raise. If partner has any constructive values, he will act again and a delayed raise by you will indicate that you had no distinct excess values.

Q. 4—Your partner has opened with one spade, and you hold:
♠ K J 8 4 2 ♡ 7 6 5 ◇ 9 2 ♣ K 5 3
What is your response?

A.—Two spades. This is an evenly balanced hand and is worth only eight points in support of spades. It is, therefore, just a raise.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠ J 9 2 ♡ Q 6 4 ◇ 8 3 ♣ A 7 6 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♡	Double	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A raise to three spades is clearly indicated. Up to this point you have promised no values whatsoever, and yet you have distinct support for partner who has shown a very fine hand by doubling first and then bidding at the level of two later.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ 10 5 2 ♡ A 10 9 7 ◇ A J 9 2 ♣ A J
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South
1 NT	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. This hand does not measure up to the requirements for a double of one no trump. The take-out doubler should have a hand presumably as strong as the one he has doubled. To double one no trump, therefore, he should hold at least 16 points.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠ A J 7 2 ♡ A J 9 4 ◇ K Q 9 3 ♣ 6
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
Pass	1 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—We recommend a trap pass, as calculated to produce the best results in the long run. A take-out double might result in an awkward situation if partner responds two clubs.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ A 6 2 ♡ K J 9 3 ◇ Q J 9 8 ♣ 10 9
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
2 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

What is your opening lead?

A.—Without straining the imagination, one can visualize a short heart suit in dummy and, in order to impair the ruffing value of that otherwise feeble dummy, it is essential that the ace of spades be led, to be followed immediately by another spade.

Secrets Of Charm

Twenty-Three Days To Christmas

Only 23 days to Christmas—and not all of them shopping days! About this time many of us find our gift lists growing. But those who enjoy the season to the utmost reverse the situation. You are just the girl to do it, too. All it takes is some shopping wisdom.

1. Instead of waiting for inspiration, scan your newspaper, catalogues and magazines for gift suggestions. When one seems to go well with a name on your list, clip it out. But double-check before you pin it with finality beside the intended recipient's name.

Check once to make certain it jibes with his or her tastes and desires and will be enjoyed. Check again to be sure you're not fooling yourself and choosing something you are just dying to possess.

2. After selecting all the gifts you can from ads, make a classified list of their sources. Itemize each gift you plan to order from any store.

3. Then, sit down at once and write a firm, clear order to all the stores on your list. Presto! The filled orders roll in—without your even having to leave the house.

4. Make a second list of the unusual, selective ideas you have for gifts. Classify them according to store departments, such as tie, toy, costume jewelry, book, etc. When you're ready to visit your favorite shops, you'll save many a step and much confusion by having a written itinerary of your ports of call. You'll be amazed to find how many you can cover in just one shopping trip!

When you approach your shopping problems in this business-like fashion, you eliminate most of the fatigue and frustration, and may even find them a source of inspiration and enjoyment. That's the secret of gift charm. The gifts that most reflect your thoughtfulness are usually the same ones that give you pleasure in selecting.

The Greatest Creed

Hand in hand walk the children of the family of man.

This is the season when millions of members of this family of many faiths observe solemn holy days.

Each faith, in its own way, recognizes in its observance the oneness and brotherhood of man.

Albert Einstein once said: "There is no higher religion than human service. To work for the common good is the greatest creed."

This ideal of brotherhood is fundamental to individuals and organizations dedicated to the common good. The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, for example, comprises 450,000 men and women of all faiths and creeds.

They work together and live together with mutual respect for their neighbors—at the next bench or in the next house.

This spirit is why the ILGWU has been able to advance the welfare of its members.

This spirit has helped not only ILGWU members and their families. The union's influence has helped raise standards of living throughout the entire community.

In this spirit, members of the ILGWU ask you to buy women's and girls' apparel with the union label. When you do, you too are working for the common good.

This label is the signature of these 450,000 working people—80% of them women. It is also your guarantee that the clothing you buy was made by skilled craftsmen in a union shop reflecting the best American standards and traditions.

The photo above was taken by W. Eugene Smith of his children. It appeared originally in The Family of Man, the great photographic exhibition created by Edward Steichen for The Museum of Modern Art. Reprints of this advertisement are available from the Union Label Department, International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, 1710 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
♡ A K J 9 4 ◇ A K J 8 6 2 ♣ 4 3
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	?

What action do you take?

A.—Three diamonds, intending to bid and rebid hearts if circumstances permit. It is not necessary to take any more drastic action at this particular time inasmuch as a game forcing signal has already been flashed.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ A K 2 ♡ K Q 10 3 ◇ K J 5 ♣ Q 7 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—One heart, with two hearts as a very close second choice. This may come as a slight disappointment to those who have heeded my earlier advice to make direct bids whenever possible. A three no trump bid is, therefore, tempting. The top limit of a three no trump bid is 18 points. On this hand, however, we have an additional ten and the added factor that the queen of clubs, in view of partner's bid, is apt to be worth more than the two points normally assigned to it. While our preference has been for an approach bid, we would not look down our noses at anyone who chose a three no trump bid.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ K 8 7 4 ♡ A 9 2 ◇ 7 3 ♣ K Q 6 2
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ◇	Double	Pass	1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Despite the fact that you are pleased with partner's response, your double is of minimum proportions and it is not appropriate for you to make a free raise. If partner has any constructive values, he will act again and a delayed raise by you will indicate that you had no distinct excess values.

Q. 4—Your partner has opened with one spade, and you hold:
♠ K J 8 4 2 ♡ 7 6 5 ◇ 9 2 ♣ K 5 3
What is your response?

A.—Two spades. This is an evenly balanced hand and is worth only eight points in support of spades. It is, therefore, just a raise.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠ J 9 2 ♡ Q 6 4 ◇ 8 3 ♣ A 7 6 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♡	Double	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A raise to three spades is clearly indicated. Up to this point you have promised no values whatsoever, and yet you have distinct support for partner who has shown a very fine hand by doubling first and then bidding at the level of two later.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ 10 5 2 ♡ A 10 9 7 ◇ A J 9 2 ♣ A J
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South
1 NT	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. This hand does not measure up to the requirements for a double of one no trump. The take-out doubler should have a hand presumably as strong as the one he has doubled. To double one no trump, therefore, he should hold at least 16 points.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠ A J 7 2 ♡ A J 9 4 ◇ K Q 9 3 ♣ 6
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
Pass	1 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—We recommend a trap pass, as calculated to produce the best results in the long run. A take-out double might result in an awkward situation if partner responds two clubs.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ A 6 2 ♡ K J 9 3 ◇ Q J 9 8 ♣ 10 9
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
2 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

What is your opening lead?

A.—Without straining the imagination, one can visualize a short heart suit in dummy and, in order to impair the ruffing value of that otherwise feeble dummy, it is essential that the ace of spades be led, to be followed immediately by another spade.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Twenty-Three Days To Christmas

Only 23 days to Christmas—and not all of them shopping days! About this time many of us find our gift lists growing. But those who enjoy the season to the utmost reverse the situation. You are just the girl to do it, too. All it takes is some shopping wisdom.

1. Instead of waiting for inspiration, scan your newspaper, catalogues and magazines for gift suggestions. When one seems to go well with a name on your list, clip it out. But double-check before you pin it with finality beside the intended recipient's name.

Check once to make certain it jibes with his or her tastes and desires and will be enjoyed. Check again to be sure you're not fooling yourself and choosing something you are just dying to possess.

2. After selecting all the gifts you can from ads, make a classified list of their sources. Itemize each gift you plan to order from any store.

3. Then, sit down at once and write a firm, clear order to all the stores on your list. Presto! The filled orders roll in—without your even having to leave the house.

4. Make a second list of the unusual, selective ideas you have for gifts. Classify them according to store departments, such as tie, toy, costume jewelry, book, etc. When you're ready to visit your favorite shops, you'll save many a step and much confusion by having a written itinerary of your ports of call. You'll be amazed to find how many you can cover in just one shopping trip!

When you approach your shopping problems in this business-like fashion, you eliminate most of the fatigue and frustration, and may even find them a source of inspiration and enjoyment. That's the secret of gift charm. The gifts that most reflect your thoughtfulness are usually the same ones that give you pleasure in selecting.

The Greatest Creed

Hand in hand walk the children of the family of man.

This is the season when millions of members of this family of many faiths observe solemn holy days.

Each faith, in its own way, recognizes in its observance the oneness and brotherhood of man.

Albert Einstein once said: "There is no higher religion than human service. To work for the common good is the greatest creed."

This ideal of brotherhood is fundamental to individuals and organizations dedicated to the common good. The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, for example, comprises 450,000 men and women of all faiths and creeds.

They work together and live together with mutual respect for their neighbors—at the next bench or in the next house.

This spirit is why the ILGWU has been able to advance the welfare of its members.

This spirit has helped not only ILGWU members and their families. The union's influence has helped raise standards of living throughout the entire community.

In this spirit, members of the ILGWU ask you to buy women's and girls' apparel with the union label. When you do, you too are working for the common good.

This label is the signature of these 450,000 working people—80% of them women. It is also your guarantee that the clothing you buy was made by skilled craftsmen in a union shop reflecting the best American standards and traditions.

The photo above was taken by W. Eugene Smith of his children. It appeared originally in The Family of Man, the great photographic exhibition created by Edward Steichen for The Museum of Modern Art. Reprints of this advertisement are available from the Union Label Department, International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, 1710 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

A Broader Destiny For West Europe

West Germany's new chancellor, Ludwig Erhard, has made clear that his country has no intention of forgetting its dependence upon the Atlantic Alliance — particularly the United States — just because West Germany has established closer ties with France.

He was careful to laud the "deepening friendship" between West Germany and France and to stand firmly by the treaty of cooperation which his predecessor, Konrad Adenauer, and General de Gaulle signed last January.

But Erhard emphasized that this cooperation is more than a bilateral proposition, and that in defense particularly Europe must continue to rely upon the alliance. Specifically, he added, this means Europe can count on the United States to "reply with all its force" if Europe is attacked.

The chancellor's candor pointed up a continuing difference of opinion about Europe's future. The key word here is reliance, however, for President de Gaulle has also spoken for international cooperation. What he wants is that Europe shape its destiny for itself, led by a resurgent France.

Circumstances have forced Germany to lean on its allies more heavily than other countries. Erhard shows greater recognition of Europe's place in the destiny of the world as a whole. But free and friendly men can adjust to differences, and in time resolve them.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Strategic Realities

The man is a highly placed organizer for one of the Republican candidates for the presidential nomination. He wanted to speak, but he felt uncomfortable about letting words be attributed to him, for his "boss" had not yet indicated any position on the idea of calling a thirty-day moratorium on campaigning. What bothered the organizer about a true period is that editorialists, commentators, columnists and supposedly "objective" reporters had not even waited for the funeral of President Kennedy to indulge in speculation on the political impact of the recent tragic events.

It has been freely stated already, so the organizer said, that the assassination of President Kennedy has knocked so-and-so's chances into a cocked hat; that it has increased this and that candidate's appeal, and so forth and so on. Well thirty-day moratorium on politicking or not, the organizer thought someone ought to talk sense about the punditing that is going on. He thinks the punditing has been silly.

What the Republican candidate's organizer insisted was that nothing really fundamental had been changed in regard to 1964. "Let's talk about the Democratic Party," he said. "During the past thirty years it has, in the north, become the 'liberal' party, making its appeal to the leaders of the labor unions, the ethnic vote in the cities, the liberal intellectuals, and so on. In the South the party is in trouble, giving rise to defections that have resulted in Republican gains.

"Now, how does the fact that Lyndon Johnson has become the Democratic standard-bearer change a single pattern? The strategy of the party must remain more or less the same. As a matter of fact, Lyndon Johnson, if he is to hold liberal Democrats, must be even tougher than kennedy on the civil rights issue and labor. Where Kennedy might have compromised and gotten away with it, Johnson may feel that he has to prove himself to liberal and labor groups that could be dubious about him. No, the accession of Johnson doesn't change the alignments of his party on basic questions."

So let's look at the Republican situation through the organizer's eyes. As it appears to him, the fact that the Democrats must be "left-liberal" to have a chance of winning means that forces have been set in motion that must end in a conservative domination of Republicanism. If not in 1964, then in 1968. The Goldwaterites, according to the organizer, have been the beneficiaries not so much of Senator Goldwater's personal appeal as they have of an intense and always increasing search for principle. In a two-party system, so the organizer says, if one party goes predominantly one way, the other party must eventually go the other if it is to continue a vital existence.

So the strategies can't change for the long run, in the opinion of the organizer. What was true last summer will be true next summer.

We questioned the organizer closely about the probable margins in certain critical areas now that Johnson is the Democratic leader. The fact that Johnson is from Texas, so the organizer said, won't keep southerners from opposing him if he takes an extreme stand on such things as qualifying the property right in relation to public accommodation. As for the Republican "heartland" in the Middle West, the organizer said: "I haven't rechecked on this, but if you look up the pre-convention polls for 1960 I think you'll find that Johnson is weak in this area. So, if margins in Illinois, Ohio and Indiana decide campaigns, this could mean a good deal in 1964."

The organizer's premise is that the American people want a choice in 1964. This does not mean that Goldwater is the only possible Republican candidate. It does not even mean that the Republican Party in convention will see its way clear to accepting the organizer's thesis that it must immediately accept the conservative position. All that the organizer wanted to say, in his temporarily enforced role of anonymous speaker, is that the virtues and drawbacks of all the Republican candidates for President remain precisely what they were when it was assumed that Kennedy would be the Democratic nominee.

Somehow The Key Must Be Found

New President Passes His First Major Test

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

As everyone has already said, President Johnson's speech to the joint session of Congress was a remarkable performance—perfectly suitable in the most difficult circumstances, vigorous and inspiring, directly calculated to get results, and certain to reassure the vast overseas audience that had been waiting to see what the new leader of the United States would be like.

This Johnson performance was all the more remarkable, it must be added in all frankness, because this sort of thing has never before been the new President's long suit. Inarticulateness has most certainly never been one of his failings, but eloquence has not been one of his gifts either.

The fact that he attained genuine eloquence, unmarred by a false note, is another proof of the rule that the Presidency has a way of stretching a man until he fits the requirements of the office. Eloquence is by no means the primary requirement; but it is a very important requirement; and it is even more important abroad than it is at home.

Hence every sensible American will rejoice that the new President has triumphantly passed his first, very hard test on the world stage, on which modern American Presidents are called upon to represent and speak for this country in a worthy manner. In every respect, Johnson has made a conspicuously successful start.

It is important to underline the success of this beginning, even at the expense of reiterating what is obvious, for a rather simple reason. To be blunt about it, President Johnson has his most dangerous first bridges still ahead of him. Whether his Presidency will get off to a completely successful start is still an open question.

The test will be the one he himself proposed, whether he can "continue" — the word he emphasized so strongly — what President Kennedy began.

President Johnson is a formidable man, with boundless energy and a proven power to get things done. But it is reasonable prediction that he will be unable to maintain this continuity, which he certainly desires, unless he is able to imitate President Truman in at least one respect.

Truman's first administration was one of the highest periods of the American Presidency, above all memorable for its bold and creative new departures. The prime credit must go to the unassuming little man of whom the most mediocre performance was expected by everyone (including, to his shame, this reporter). But this memorable performance would hardly have been within President Truman's reach if he had not wisely kept on duty the many outstanding public servants, like James V. Forrestal whom he inherited from President Roosevelt.

President Johnson comes into office just as President Truman did, with a few wise friends and advisors, but with no advisors with direct, detailed, recent experience of the problems he will now confront, and with nothing like the personal staff any successful President needs. As in Truman's case, too, Johnson is the kind of ebullient, old-fashioned politician who attracts harpies — and the line is of course forming on the right.

Thus, continuity will depend in part on President Johnson's success in repulsing the harpies (something President Truman did not do very successfully). But continuity will mainly depend on President Johnson's success in continuing to use President Kennedy's best recruits to the public service, in the Truman manner.

This will in fact be more troublesome for Johnson than for Truman. Far more than President Roosevelt, President Kennedy had a strange power of inspiring close personal attachment. President Roosevelt had inspired this sort of attachment in only one exceptionally able man. And President Truman was unable to keep Harry L. Hopkins.

Yet almost all the leading, ablest men of the Kennedy administration felt about Kennedy almost as Hopkins felt about Roosevelt, though of course without aspiring to be the sort of Presidential alter ego that Hopkins was.

Right there is President Johnson's human problem. He has wisely asked all the best Kennedy-era public servants to stay on, including the key members of President Kennedy's White House staff. There is no doubt that he wants them to stay on.

In one or two cases, President Johnson may not and perhaps should not get what he wants. For instance, superhuman fortitude will be required, or a grave disaster will be risked, if Attorney General Robert Kennedy tries to serve another man as he served his brother, without afterthoughts or regrets. But in the great majority of cases, the chief men who served President Kennedy have a duty, if only to Kennedy's memory, to help Johnson continue where his predecessor left off.

All the same, President Johnson will need all his exceptional gifts to get safely across the bridge herein imperfectly described.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION—Congressman Jack Shelley, San Francisco's new Democratic mayor-elect, takes office Jan. 9, but his Republican predecessor, George Christopher, can justifiably gloat that it was he who spearheaded the 1964 GOP "takeover" of San Francisco last January.

The GOP "takeover" is another way of saying that Republican politicians from every state in the nation will sweep into this world-famed city next July to occupy just about every available worthy hotel room to be on hand for the Republican National Convention, the second ever held on the West Coast.

The GOP nominees will be chosen at the Cow Palace where Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon won their party's top endorsement in 1956. The Cow Palace, incidentally, owes its name to a newspaper headline writer.

During construction of the 17,000-seat arena in the 1935 depression year, one San Francisco newspaper complained that "while people are being evicted from their homes, a palace is built for cows" (the state-owned structure where horse, cattle and other shows are held, is administered by a California district agricultural association). A headline writer topped the story with a "Cow Palace" label and the name, now official, stuck.

Christopher convened the city's civic and business leaders last Jan. 4 when the decision was made to bid for the 1964 national conventions. Six months later, the GOP site selection committee unanimously recommended San Francisco which had pledged $650,000 to help the GOP finance the July 13 convention, which will probably last four or five days.

Bipartisan Congressional Group Should Investigate Assassination

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—There are three agencies of government which are sacrosanct as far as congressional investigation or criticism is concerned—the FBI, the Secret Service, and Central Intelligence. In the interest of protecting the life of the President, however, it is my belief that a rigorous investigation should be undertaken regarding the first two.

Here are some facts which should be investigated:

THE SECRET SERVICE—Six Secret Service men, charged with protecting the President, were in the Fort Worth Press Club the early morning of Friday, Nov. 22, some of them remaining until nearly three o'clock. This was earlier in the same day President Kennedy was assassinated. They were drinking. One of them was reported to have been inebriated. When they departed, three were reported en route to an all-night beatnik rendezvous, "The Cellar."

The Secret Service, which has done a notably good job in the past, prides itself on having men who will give their lives for the President. They are charged with throwing their own bodies in front of the President in case of attack.

Obviously men who have been drinking until nearly three a. m. are in no condition to be trigger-alert or in the best physical shape to protect anyone.

It has been stated that it was an impossibility for the Secret Service to check the occupancy of every building along the route.

While this is true, it is also true that warehouse type buildings, such as that in which the assassin hid, should be searched, and the extra time spent by Secret Service men at the Fort Worth Press Club could have been spent in so doing.

Fort Worth Press Club

What happened at Fort Worth was that the Press Club, supposed to close at 10 p. m. under local liquor laws, sent word inviting Vice President Johnson and Gov. Connally, both honorary members, to come over, and on that excuse stayed open after hours. Neither Johnson nor Connally accepted the invitation, but the club stayed open anyway.

When I queried Calvin Sutton, president of the club, he explained that "a lot of big bylines were in town whom we had heard about but never seen in person, so we took the liberty of staying open. We shouldn't have done it, but we did.

"Some of our correspondents then passed out guest cards to members of the President's party. I didn't know the Secret Service men were being invited and it kind of surprised me when they arrived, but they all had guest cards. They got in about eleven or a little later."

Sutton said it was 3 a. m. when he locked up and the Secret Service men left a little ahead of him.

"They wanted to know where 'The Cellar' was, and I told them. But I did my best to discourage them. I don't know whether they went or not."

Sutton said they seemed to be in pretty good shape when they left. He denied that one was inebriated.

Note—I repeat that I have been highly laudatory of the Secret Service for many years, and in this case I think the Secret Service owes it to its own reputation and the public to make known the names of its agents who were at the Fort Worth Press Club just prior to the tragedy in Dallas.

File Of Suspects

THE FBI—In Dallas, the police stated that the FBI had interviewed Lee Oswald but had not informed them about the interview. In Washington, the FBI denied that they had interrogated Oswald recently.

Regardless of whether he was interviewed recently or a long time ago, it is the job of the protective agencies of government to check on every suspect in any city which the President visits and make sure where he is at the time of the visit.

A man who had been head of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, who had professed Marxism, and whose record showed a mixed-up, unsteady emotionalism, should have been kept under careful watch on the day the President entered his city—one of the most lawless and intolerant cities in the United States.

The Secret Service keeps a file of people who have written threatening letters to the President or who are otherwise suspect. If Oswald was not on their list, the FBI should have communicated with the Secret Service after they interviewed him. If photographs of Oswald passing out pro-Castro leaflets were shown on television—as they were—certainly the FBI and Secret Service should have been able to catalogue him without too much trouble.

It's true there has been long-standing jealousy between the FBI and the Secret Service. Sometimes they act almost as if they don't speak. But they should stop squabbling over jurisdiction and headlines at least where the life of the President is concerned.

THE DALLAS POLICE—I was in Dallas on the tragic day President Kennedy was shot. I was not there when his alleged assassin, Lee Oswald, was shot. But newsmen who were on the scene in the basement of the Dallas police station inform me that it is inconceivable the police did not know Jack Ruby was inside.

Most newsmen had to show their credentials to two police guards to enter the basement. It was more difficult to get into than the White House. Yet a strip-tease night club operator with a police record of arrests for assault and for carrying concealed weapons was let inside.

The Dallas police record shows Ruby was chiefly in trouble for having a violent temper and jumping on people. This is not the kind of man normally allowed in police headquarters when the most important defendant in Texas history is being transferred. How this happened may never be explained by the Dallas police. But a bipartisan, thoroughgoing Congressional committee should probe to the bottom.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. — A tree is best measured when it is down . . .

It is over. Finished. John F. Kennedy died in the fair Summer of his life. He was waving his hand and listening to his wife. Her words were the last things he knew. The President felt no pain, knew no cowardly betrayal. He was still listening and smiling when all the light went out.

I was with this man twice. Once, on the day he was nominated in Los Angeles. On the second occasion, I spent four days with him and with Mrs. Kennedy in the White House. That was three weeks before he died. I was researching a book to be called "A Day in the Life of President Kennedy." It will now be called "A Final Visit with President Kennedy."

He was cordial, and more than cordial. He was honest; almost too honest. He said he now realized that each President comes to the White House with goals in his mind. Achievements for his nation. Two terms come to 2,920 days. It was, he found, too short a time. Each one, he was certain, left offices with unfinished business. No President worked harder than this one to achieve the grand design of true peace, and true brotherhood.

Two goals. He did not live to see either of them. Two is a small number. When we sat in his great oval office, Mr. Kennedy exuded confidence. He was not easily elated — even by good news — but he felt that he had already started the wheels in motion toward both goals. True peace, a peace in which all nations realize that no one can win the next war; and true brotherhood, in which each man is his brother's keeper, were goals in motion.

A start had been made. Now he has been cut down. Who weeps? The Congressmen who thwarted him? Of course. The politicians who denounced him and refused to give him either a tax bill or a civil rights bill? The white supremacy councils? The Negro leaders who growled that he had not gone far enough? The Catholics — like me — who felt that he opposed aid to parochial schools because it was the best way to quiet the religious bigots? Dallas? Where the super-millionaires can afford to inflame the people with isolationist propaganda? The Northern politicians who goaded him to push the South harder?

Who weeps?

Jacqueline Kennedy weeps. She did not want him to have the Presidency. We sat together at the children's playground in the President's park and she said: I'm getting used to it, I think. I never wanted it. I never liked it. I never met a politician I admired." She smiled, almost shyly, looking down at the grass beneath her feet. "But I'm getting used to it now. Of course, I will do everything I can to help my husband."

Her goal was a personal family life. This clashed with his two goals. Mrs. Kennedy wanted most of all to be with little John-John and Caroline and the President. She liked her father-in-law so much that she told me she asked him to come to the White House "to live."

If she was aware of the rumors which beset Washington; the rumors that she did not love John F. Kennedy, that she wanted to divorce him, she paid no more attention to them than an earlier First Lady paid to rumors that she was an alcoholic. If my wife and I can judge anything by four days of observation, it is this: A great love was nourished between these two people.

When she lost her baby earlier this year, the President, realizing that official Washington was distressing her, suggested the trip to Greece. Kenneth O'Donnell, appointments secretary to the President and a cherished friend, told me that he advised against the trip. He told Mr. Kennedy that it would advance rumors that Mrs. Kennedy was unhappy. The President seldom lost his temper. This time, he said: "Ken, mind your own business."

He wanted her to relax, to rest from her ordeal and grief. His wife's health was more important to him than the rumors. He turned out to be right. She came back stronger, smiling, more like the outdoor, laughing extrovert he had married 10 years before.

"He's getting to be more like his father," Mrs. Kennedy said. He's changing. He likes to sit at home at night with the children." John-John, who had been running around in a white suit, made a dive through a pile of wet leaves. "My God," the First Lady murmured, "we're on our way to my mother's. Look at him."

She escorted Mrs. Bishop and me through the private quarters of the family. She showed us the rooms, the furniture, the paintings, the family photographs. I asked if she would take more of a part in the campaign next year. Mrs. Kennedy wrinkled her nose. "I guess so," she said. "He's my husband. I'll do everything I can . . ."

Mrs. Kennedy did. The first of her big public appearances was a visit to Dallas. She made the trip as a duty. I have not seen her since, but if he had to die, I'm sure that she wanted to be at his side, to hold his bleeding head in her lap, to sit in the ambulance with the body on the ride back to the airport, to remember, to remember, to remember, for the rest of her days.

Who weeps? She does . . .

Face Lifting Won't Stop The Aging Process

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Face lifting makes a person look 10 to 15 years younger but it will not stop the aging process. Plastic surgery conceals the outer manifestations of growing old but will not rejuvenate the individual, except in spirit. After the operation, the wrinkles recur gradually, depending upon the speed with which the skin deteriorates, body weight fluctuations, the age, habits, and occupation.

The results are said to be excellent for the first year, good the second year, and fair the third year. A new lift may be considered after the fifth year. This is not mentioned to be discouraging but as a briefing on what to expect.

A good analogy, according to a group of plastic surgeons from Detroit, is to compare the patient with an unoperated twin sister who continues to age at the same rate. Theoretically, this would make the appearance of the operated twin 10 to 15 years younger than her sister.

Face lifting is well named because this is what the surgeon does. The technic is complicated but an oversimplified version goes like this: An incision is made along the side of the face, behind the hair line, above and below the ear. The skin is separated from the underlying tissue and pulled up and back, and the excess removed. In time, the hair hides the incision. Special procedures are needed to eliminate wrinkles on the forehead, sagging skin above the eyes, and deep cheek folds created by smiling.

The best candidates are vigorous, well adjusted career men and women in their forties or fifties who have aged prematurely. Their wrinkles, flabby skin, and sagging jowls no longer can be camouflaged with cosmetics.

Basically, they have good skin with only slight changes in the underlying framework or connective tissue. They have neither too much nor too little subcutaneous fat. Improvement will be only temporary when the skin is lumpy because of fat deposits and if it is too dry, the patient may end up looking like a wax figure. Not everyone will benefit from plastic surgery.

TEMPORARY COLOSTOMY

J. R. writes: A year ago I had a colostomy. Is it true that it can be closed if X-rays and proctoscopic examination prove satisfactory?

REPLY

Yes, but this problem is too technical to answer via a health column. You fail to state why an opening was made through the skin of the abdomen to allow the contents of the colon to escape to the outside long before they reach the rectum.

THROAT "LUMP"

Mrs. L. writes: What causes a lump in the throat every so often? This makes me very nervous.

REPLY

This is a common nervous manifestation, and, in many instances, is aggravated by the ensuing anxiety. The sensation probably stems from a contraction of the throat muscles.

CLEANSING WITH CARROTS

Mrs. P. writes: Will eating a carrot stick after a meal prove as effective as an apple in cleansing the teeth after eating?

REPLY

I doubt it because carrots are too firm to ge tbetween the teeth.

HEALTHY LUNGS

R. L. Y. writes: How can a person build up healthy lungs?

REPLY

By breathing clean air and not smoking.

B'CTERIAL ALLERGY

A. D. writes: Please explain bacterial allergy.

REPLY

Some persons develop asthma after a respiratory infection and bacteria are suspected when no other cause of the symptom can be found.

TOMORROW: Items from medical journals.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Joe McCarthy met an Englishman who had just returned from the far North and was full of tales of the troubles he had encountered driving a dog-sled team over the frozen wasteland. "I kept urging them on with 'Tally-ho,' 'Tally-ho', he mourned, "but the confounded dogs wouldn't budge. They just panted a bit and laughed in my face."

"You should have said 'Mush'," advised McCarthy.

"All right," conceded the Englishman. "The dogs just panted and laughed in my mush."

Tony Martin made one record last year that sold a hundred thousand copies in Rome alone. "Don't get too conceited about that, however," cautioned his agent. "It turned out that the Romans thought it was a licorice pizza."

"My poor husband," sighed a stout lady at the poolside of a Florida motel. "For months now he's been convinced he's a lawn mower."

"He'll get over it," predicted an optimistic acquaintance.

"He'd better," snapped the stout lady grimly. "I'm getting sick of lending him to the neighbors."

A Broader Destiny For West Europe

West Germany's new chancellor, Ludwig Erhard, has made clear that his country has no intention of forgetting its dependence upon the Atlantic Alliance — particularly the United States — just because West Germany has established closer ties with France.

He was careful to laud the "deepening friendship" between West Germany and France and to stand firmly by the treaty of cooperation which his predecessor, Konrad Adenauer, and General de Gaulle signed last January.

But Erhard emphasized that this cooperation is more than a bilateral proposition, and that in defense particularly Europe must continue to rely upon the alliance. Specifically, he added, this means Europe can count on the United States to "reply with all its force" if Europe is attacked.

The chancellor's candor pointed up a continuing difference of opinion about Europe's future. The key word here is reliance, however, for President de Gaulle has also spoken for international cooperation. What he wants is that Europe shape its destiny for itself, led by a resurgent France.

Circumstances have forced Germany to lean on its allies more heavily than other countries. Erhard shows greater recognition of Europe's place in the destiny of the world as a whole. But free and friendly men can adjust to differences, and in time resolve them.

These Days

Strategic Realities

The man is a highly placed organizer for one of the Republican candidates for the presidential nomination. He wanted to speak, but he felt uncomfortable about letting words be attributed to him, for his "boss" had not yet indicated any position on the idea of calling a thirty-day moratorium on campaigning. What bothered the organizer about a true period is that editorialists, commentators, columnists and supposedly "objective" reporters had not even waited for the funeral of President Kennedy to indulge in speculation on the political impact of the recent tragic events.

It has been freely stated already, so the organizer said, that the assassination of President Kennedy has knocked so-and-so's chances into a cocked hat; that it has increased this and that candidate's appeal, and so forth and so on. Well thirty-day moratorium on politicking or not, the organizer thought someone ought to talk sense about the punditing that is going on. He thinks the punditing has been silly.

What the Republican candidate's organizer insisted was that nothing really fundamental had been changed in regard to 1964. "Let's talk about the Democratic Party," he said. "During the past thirty years it has, in the north, become the 'liberal' party, making its appeal to the leaders of the labor unions, the ethnic vote in the cities, the liberal intellectuals, and so on. In the South the party is in trouble, giving rise to defections that have resulted in Republican gains.

"Now, how does the fact that Lyndon Johnson has become the Democratic standard-bearer change a single pattern? The strategy of the party must remain more or less the same. As a matter of fact, Lyndon Johnson, if he is to hold liberal Democrats, must be even tougher than kennedy on the civil rights issue and labor. Where Kennedy might have compromised and gotten away with it, Johnson may feel that he has to prove himself to liberal and labor groups that could be dubious about him. No, the accession of Johnson doesn't change the alignments of his party on basic questions."

So let's look at the Republican situation through the organizer's eyes. As it appears to him, the fact that the Democrats must be "left-liberal" to have a chance of winning means that forces have been set in motion that must end in a conservative domination of Republicanism. If not in 1964, then in 1968. The Goldwaterites, according to the organizer, have been the beneficiaries not so much of Senator Goldwater's personal appeal as they have of an intense and always increasing search for principle. In a two-party system, so the organizer says, if one party goes predominantly one way, the other party must eventually go the other if it is to continue a vital existence.

So the strategies can't change for the long run, in the opinion of the organizer. What was true last summer will be true next summer.

We questioned the organizer closely about the probable margins in certain critical areas now that Johnson is the Democratic leader. The fact that Johnson is from Texas, so the organizer said, won't keep southerners from opposing him if he takes an extreme stand on such things as qualifying the property right in relation to public accommodation. As for the Republican "heartland" in the Middle West, the organizer said: "I haven't rechecked on this, but if you look up the pre-convention polls for 1960 I think you'll find that Johnson is weak in this area. So, if margins in Illinois, Ohio and Indiana decide campaigns, this could mean a good deal in 1964."

The organizer's premise is that the American people want a choice in 1964. This does not mean that Goldwater is the only possible Republican candidate. It does not even mean that the Republican Party in convention will see its way clear to accepting the organizer's thesis that it must immediately accept the conservative position. All that the organizer wanted to say, in his temporarily enforced role of anonymous speaker, is that the virtues and drawbacks of all the Republican candidates for President remain precisely what they were when it was assumed that Kennedy would be the Democratic nominee.

Somehow The Key Must Be Found

New President Passes His First Major Test

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

As everyone has already said, President Johnson's speech to the joint session of Congress was a remarkable performance—perfectly suitable in the most difficult circumstances, vigorous and inspiring, directly calculated to get results, and certain to reassure the vast overseas audience that had been waiting to see what the new leader of the United States would be like.

This Johnson performance was all the more remarkable, it must be added in all frankness, because this sort of thing has never before been the new President's long suit. Inarticulateness has most certainly never been one of his failings, but eloquence has not been one of his gifts either.

The fact that he attained genuine eloquence, unmarred by a false note, is another proof of the rule that the Presidency has a way of stretching a man until he fits the requirements of the office. Eloquence is by no means the primary requirement; but it is a very important requirement; and it is even more important abroad than it is at home.

Hence every sensible American will rejoice that the new President has triumphantly passed his first, very hard test on the world stage, on which modern American Presidents are called upon to represent and speak for this country in a worthy manner. In every respect, Johnson has made a conspicuously successful start.

It is important to underline the success of this beginning, even at the expense of reiterating what is obvious, for a rather simple reason. To be blunt about it, President Johnson has his most dangerous first bridges still ahead of him. Whether his Presidency will get off to a completely successful start is still an open question.

The test will be the one he himself proposed, whether he can "continue" — the word he emphasized so strongly — what President Kennedy began.

President Johnson is a formidable man, with boundless energy and a proven power to get things done. But it is reasonable prediction that he will be unable to maintain this continuity, which he certainly desires, unless he is able to imitate President Truman in at least one respect.

Truman's first administration was one of the highest periods of the American Presidency, above all memorable for its bold and creative new departures. The prime credit must go to the unassuming little man of whom the most mediocre performance was expected by everyone (including, to his shame, this reporter). But this memorable performance would hardly have been within President Truman's reach if he had not wisely kept on duty the many outstanding public servants, like James V. Forrestal whom he inherited from President Roosevelt.

President Johnson comes into office just as President Truman did, with a few wise friends and advisors, but with no advisors with direct, detailed, recent experience of the problems he will now confront, and with nothing like the personal staff any successful President needs. As in Truman's case, too, Johnson is the kind of ebullient, old-fashioned politician who attracts harpies — and the line is of course forming on the right.

Thus, continuity will depend in part on President Johnson's success in repulsing the harpies (something President Truman did not do very successfully). But continuity will mainly depend on President Johnson's success in continuing to use President Kennedy's best recruits to the public service, in the Truman manner.

This will in fact be more troublesome for Johnson than for Truman. Far more than President Roosevelt, President Kennedy had a strange power of inspiring close personal attachment. President Roosevelt had inspired this sort of attachment in only one exceptionally able man. And President Truman was unable to keep Harry L. Hopkins.

Yet almost all the leading, ablest men of the Kennedy administration felt about Kennedy almost as Hopkins felt about Roosevelt, though of course without aspiring to be the sort of Presidential alter ego that Hopkins was.

"You should have said 'Mush'," advised McCarthy.

"All right," conceded the Englishman. "The dogs just panted and laughed in my mush."

Tony Martin made one record last year that sold a hundred thousand copies in Rome alone. "Don't get too conceited about that, however," cautioned his agent. "It turned out that the Romans thought it was a licorice pizza."

"My poor husband," sighed a stout lady at the poolside of a Florida motel. "For months now he's been convinced he's a lawn mower."

"He'll get over it," predicted an optimistic acquaintance.

Bipartisan Congressional Group Should Investigate Assassination

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—There are three agencies of government which are sacrosanct as far as congressional investigation or criticism is concerned—the FBI, the Secret Service, and Central Intelligence. In the interest of protecting the life of the President, however, it is my belief that a rigorous investigation should be undertaken regarding the first two.

Here are some facts which should be investigated:

THE SECRET SERVICE—Six Secret Service men, charged with protecting the President, were in the Fort Worth Press Club the early morning of Friday, Nov. 22, some of them remaining until nearly three o'clock. This was earlier in the same day President Kennedy was assassinated. They were drinking. One of them was reported to have been inebriated. When they departed, three were reported en route to an all-night beatnik rendezvous, "The Cellar."

The Secret Service, which has done a notably good job in the past, prides itself on having men who will give their lives for the President. They are charged with throwing their own bodies in front of the President in case of attack.

Obviously men who have been drinking until nearly three a. m. are in no condition to be trigger-alert or in the best physical shape to protect anyone.

It has been stated that it was an impossibility for the Secret Service to check the occupancy of every building along the route.

While this is true, it is also true that warehouse type buildings, such as that in which the assassin hid, should be searched, and the extra time spent by Secret Service men at the Fort Worth Press Club could have been spent in so doing.

Fort Worth Press Club

What happened at Fort Worth was that the Press Club, supposed to close at 10 p. m. under local liquor laws, sent word inviting Vice President Johnson and Gov. Connally, both honorary members, to come over, and on that excuse stayed open after hours. Neither Johnson nor Connally accepted the invitation, but the club stayed open anyway.

When I queried Calvin Sutton, president of the club, he explained that "a lot of big bylines were in town whom we had heard about but never seen in person, so we took the liberty of staying open. We shouldn't have done it, but we did.

"Some of our correspondents then passed out guest cards to members of the President's party. I didn't know the Secret Service men were being invited and it kind of surprised me when they arrived, but they all had guest cards. They got in about eleven or a little later."

Sutton said it was 3 a. m. when he locked up and the Secret Service men left a little ahead of him.

"They wanted to know where 'The Cellar' was, and I told them. But I did my best to discourage them. I don't know whether they went or not."

Sutton said they seemed to be in pretty good shape when they left. He denied that one was inebriated.

Note—I repeat that I have been highly laudatory of the Secret Service for many years, and in this case I think the Secret Service owes it to its own reputation and the public to make known the names of its agents who were at the Fort Worth Press Club just prior to the tragedy in Dallas.

File Of Suspects

THE FBI—In Dallas, the police stated that the FBI had interviewed Lee Oswald but had not informed them about the interview. In Washington, the FBI denied that they had interrogated Oswald recently.

Regardless of whether he was interviewed recently or a long time ago, it is the job of the protective agencies of government to check on every suspect in any city which the President visits and make sure where he is at the time of the visit.

A man who had been head of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, who had professed Marxism, and whose record showed a mixed-up, unsteady emotionalism, should have been kept under careful watch on the day the President entered his city—one of the most lawless and intolerant cities in the United States.

The Secret Service keeps a file of people who have written threatening letters to the President or who are otherwise suspect. If Oswald was not on their list, the FBI should have communicated with the Secret Service after they interviewed him. If photographs of Oswald passing out pro-Castro leaflets were shown on television—as they were—certainly the FBI and Secret Service should have been able to catalogue him without too much trouble.

It's true there has been long-standing jealousy between the FBI and the Secret Service. Sometimes they act almost as if they don't speak. But they should stop squabbling over jurisdiction and headlines at least where the life of the President is concerned.

THE DALLAS POLICE—I was in Dallas on the tragic day President Kennedy was shot. I was not there when his alleged assassin, Lee Oswald, was shot. But newsmen who were on the scene in the basement of the Dallas police station inform me that it is inconceivable the police did not know Jack Ruby was inside.

Most newsmen had to show their credentials to two police guards to enter the basement. It was more difficult to get into than the White House. Yet a strip-tease night club operator with a police record of arrests for assault and for carrying concealed weapons was let inside.

The Dallas police record shows Ruby was chiefly in trouble for having a violent temper and jumping on people. This is not the kind of man normally allowed in police headquarters when the most important defendant in Texas history is being transferred. How this happened may never be explained by the Dallas police. But a bipartisan, thoroughgoing Congressional committee should probe to the bottom.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. — A tree is best measured when it is down . . .

It is over. Finished. John F. Kennedy died in the fair Summer of his life. He was waving his hand and listening to his wife. Her words were the last things he knew. The President felt no pain, knew no cowardly betrayal. He was still listening and smiling when all the light went out.

I was with this man twice. Once, on the day he was nominated in Los Angeles. On the second occasion, I spent four days with him and with Mrs. Kennedy in the White House. That was three weeks before he died. I was researching a book to be called "A Day in the Life of President Kennedy." It will now be called "A Final Visit with President Kennedy."

He was cordial, and more than cordial. He was honest; almost too honest. He said he now realized that each President comes to the White House with goals in his mind. Achievements for his nation. Two terms come to 2,920 days. It was, he found, too short a time. Each one, he was certain, left offices with unfinished business. No President worked harder than this one to achieve the grand design of true peace, and true brotherhood.

Two goals. He did not live to see either of them. Two is a small number. When we sat in his great oval office, Mr. Kennedy exuded confidence. He was not easily elated — even by good news — but he felt that he had already started the wheels in motion toward both goals. True peace, a peace in which all nations realize that no one can win the next war; and true brotherhood, in which each man is his brother's keeper, were goals in motion.

A start had been made. Now he has been cut down. Who weeps? The Congressmen who thwarted him? Of course. The politicians who denounced him and refused to give him either a tax bill or a civil rights bill? The white supremacy councils? The Negro leaders who growled that he had not gone far enough? The Catholics — like me — who felt that he opposed aid to parochial schools because it was the best way to quiet the religious bigots? Dallas? Where the super-millionaires can afford to inflame the people with isolationist propaganda? The Northern politicians who goaded him to push the South harder?

Who weeps?

Jacqueline Kennedy weeps. She did not want him to have the Presidency. We sat together at the children's playground in the President's park and she said: I'm getting used to it, I think. I never wanted it. I never liked it. I never met a politician I admired." She smiled, almost shyly, looking down at the grass beneath her feet. "But I'm getting used to it now. Of course, I will do everything I can to help my husband."

Her goal was a personal family life. This clashed with his two goals. Mrs. Kennedy wanted most of all to be with little John-John and Caroline and the President. She liked her father-in-law so much that she told me she asked him to come to the White House "to live."

If she was aware of the rumors which beset Washington; the rumors that she did not love John F. Kennedy, that she wanted to divorce him, she paid no more attention to them than an earlier First Lady paid to rumors that she was an alcoholic. If my wife and I can judge anything by four days of observation, it is this: A great love was nourished between these two people.

When she lost her baby earlier this year, the President, realizing that official Washington was distressing her, suggested the trip to Greece. Kenneth O'Donnell, appointments secretary to the President and a cherished friend, told me that he advised against the trip. He told Mr. Kennedy that it would advance rumors that Mrs. Kennedy was unhappy. The President seldom lost his temper. This time, he said: "Ken, mind your own business."

He wanted her to relax, to rest from her ordeal and grief. His wife's health was more important to him than the rumors. He turned out to be right. She came back stronger, smiling, more like the outdoor, laughing extrovert he had married 10 years before.

"He's getting to be more like his father," Mrs. Kennedy said. He's changing. He likes to sit at home at night with the children." John-John, who had been running around in a white suit, made a dive through a pile of wet leaves. "My God," the First Lady murmured, "we're on our way to my mother's. Look at him."

She escorted Mrs. Bishop and me through the private quarters of the family. She showed us the rooms, the furniture, the paintings, the family photographs. I asked if she would take more of a part in the campaign next year. Mrs. Kennedy wrinkled her nose. "I guess so," she said. "He's my husband. I'll do everything I can . . . "

Mrs. Kennedy did. The first of her big public appearances was a visit to Dallas. She made the trip as a duty. I have not seen her since, but if he had to die, I'm sure that she wanted to be at his side, to hold his bleeding head in her lap, to sit in the ambulance with the body on the ride back to the airport, to remember, to remember, to remember, for the rest of her days.

Who weeps? She does . . .

Vikings Hold Bears To 17-17 Tie; Tittle Sets Passing Record

Wade's TD Pass Enables Chicago To Retain Lead

Tarkenton Injured, Ron Vander Kelen Stars For Losers

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Wade's eight-yard touchdown pass to Joe Marconi after inspired Minnesota fumbled away apparent victory gave the Chicago Bears a 17-17 tie with the Vikings Sunday to keep the Bears the Western Division leaders in the National Football League.

It was the second successive 17-17 deadlock played by the Bears, who last Sunday tied the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Bears, nearly an upset victim by the substitute quarterbacking of Ron VanderKelen, now hold the divisional lead with a 9-1-2 record, one-half game ahead of runner-up Green Bay with 9-2-1.

Tarkenton Injured

VanderKelen entered the game with only two minutes gone when Viking star Fran Tarkenton was injured and directed the Vikings brilliantly, tossing his first NFL touchdown pass to give Minnesota a 17-3 lead in the second quarter.

Tarkenton did not re-enter the game until the Bears tied it at 17-17 midway in the fourth period on the Wade-to-Marconi scoring shot.

The Bears got the big break of the game when Tommy Mason fumbled and Rosy Taylor recovered for the Bears on the Viking 31. Two plays later, Wade found Marconi wide open in the end zone. Rookie Bob Jencks' conversion knotted the score.

Bears Outbattled

The Bears were outbattled most of the way by the team they had beaten 28-7 in Minnesota on Sept. 22. They were held to only 22 yards rushing in the first half and finally got back in the game in the third quarter. Wade capped a 49-yard march with a one-yard touchdown sneak, trimming the Minnesota lead to 17-10.

The Vikings moved ahead 3-0 on Fred Cox's 16-yard field goal in the first quarter. But the Bears tied it in the same period on Roger Leclerc's fielder, also a 16-yarder.

In the second period, the Vikings scored two touchdowns. The first came as VanderKelen guided Minnesota 42 yards and Tom Wilson smashed over from the two.

Vandy, who had previously completed 12 of 16 tosses as Tarkenton's substitute, cut loose with a pass play covering 53 yards with Gordon Smith on the receiving end.

NAIA ALL-TOURNEY SOCCER TEAM — Earlham College, of Richmond, Indiana, and Castleton (Vermont) College shared the national soccer championship for 1963 in the NAIA Saturday when snow resulted in the cancellation of their game at Frostburg State College. The consolation game between East Stroudsburg (Pa.) and Trenton (N. J.) State was also cancelled. All four schools landed players on the all-tournament team. Earlham captured four places, Trenton three and Castleton and East Stroudsburg two each. Lee Orvis, Castleton goalie, whose sensational play highlighted Friday's game, was voted the Most Valuable Player. Pictured above, left to right, are the all-tournament team players: FRONT ROW—John Guthrie (IL) Earlham; Griffin Mtegha (IR) Earlham; Lee Orvis (Goalie) Castleton; Thomas Smith (Goalie) and Frank Barroqueiro (OL) Trenton. BACK ROW—Pete Messina (RH) Castleton; Bert Brown (CHB) Earlham; Joe Schmidt (LFB) Trenton; Ralph Stiebritz (CHB) Trenton; Jerry Forrester (LFB) and Paul Grube (CF) East Stroudsburg.

Giants Score 34-27 Victory Over Cowboys

Y.A.'s Career Total For TD Passes 197; N.Y. Tied For Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Y. A. Tittle set a National Football League record for touchdown passes Sunday in lifting the New York Giants to an uphill 34-27 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

New York's triumph kept the Giants in a tie for the NFL's Eastern Division lead with the Cleveland Browns, who knocked off the St. Louis Cardinals 24-10 Sunday.

Harried by a terrific pass rush in the first half, when Cornell Green intercepted two of his throws and turned them into touchdowns, Tittle came back to guide the Giants to 20 points in the last half.

Beats Layne's Record

His nine-yard shot to Frank Gifford and a 17-yard scoring throw to Del Shofner gave him the career record for touchdown passes. He now has 197 — one more than the record set by Bobby Layne.

The balding 38-year-old Tittle passed New York into position for one touchdown, tossing nine yards to Gifford; his passing set up the third New York touchdown, which he made himself with a one-yard smash; his passing set up a field goal and his scoring throw to Shofner was the payoff.

Jerry Hillebrand scored the first Giant touchdown on a brilliant maneuver, first batting a Don Meredith pass into the air, then grabbing it and stepping into the end zone.

Don Chandler kicked two field goals, one for 53 yards — a Giants' club record.

Perkins Scores Thrice

Don Perkins, who ripped the New York line all afternoon, ran over three Dallas touchdowns. Amos Marsh made the other one.

A crowd of 29,653 fans watched the game played in the Cotton Bowl.

Colts Defeat 'Skins, 36-20

Unitas Sparkles For Baltimore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnny Unitas, as deceptive as a sideshow magician, passed for three touchdowns Sunday as he led Baltimore to an easy National Football League 36-20 victory over Washington.

Unitas kept the Redskins in an almost constant state of confusion with his play calling. He connected on 24 of 37 passes for 355 yards and ran for key yardage himself on several occasions.

The clever quarterback sent the Colts into a 16-7 halftime lead with second quarter touchdown passes of 30 yards to John Mackey and two yards to Ray Berry, and Washington never caught up.

Washington threatened to make a contest of it early in the third quarter, moving 80 yards in four plays to make the score 16-13. Dick James raced around end from the three for the score after a 62-yard pass to Don Bosseler put the ball in scoring position.

Jim Martin then kicked a 37-yard field goal to stretch the Colt lead. In all, Martin kicked three field goals, with the other two from nine yards and 41 yards.

Unitas broke the game wide open in the fourth quarter with two quick touchdowns. He set up the first with a 10-yard run to the 10 after he was trapped trying to pass. Then, he sent Jerry Hill slamming through the middle 10 yards for the score.

Minutes later, Unitas took the Colts 76 yards in nine plays, this time it was a 28-yard toss to Jimmy Orr that was good for the touchdown.

Ryan, Brown Keep Cleveland In Tie For Lead

Browns Turn Back Cardinals, 24-10

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rejuvenated Frank Ryan and record-breaking Jimmy Brown kept Cleveland in a tie for first place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League Sunday as they led the Browns over St. Louis, 24-10.

The Browns are now tied for first with the New York Giants, who downed the Dallas Cowboys 34-27.

Cleveland, St. Louis and New York entered Sunday's games tied for the Eastern lead, each with 8-3 records.

Knocked From Lead

The Cardinal defeat knocked St. Louis a game back of the pacesetters with two games left.

Brown, who went short yardage for two touchdowns, broke his own single-season rushing record by gaining 179 yards on 29 carries for a season total of 1,677 yards. He needed 30 yards to shatter the mark of 1,527 he set in 1958.

Ryan, benched two weeks ago when the Cardinals beat the Browns, 20-14, riddled the St. Louis defense with his passes for 210 yards. He threw 23 yards to Rich Kreitling for the first score and set up the other two with his long-distance tossing.

Wrap Up Game Early

The Browns wrapped up the game in the first half as Ryan engineered them to a 21-3 lead. He got them a touchdown the first time they got the ball after Paul Wiggin recovered a fumble by Bill Triplett of the Cardinals on the St. Louis 48. Ryan ran for a first down and then pitched to Kreitling for the score.

After the Cardinals managed their field goal, Ryan came back with a 49-yarder to Tom Hutchinson to set up Brown's drive for the score.

Triplett and Joe Childress combined to pick up most of the yardage on a 83-yard scoring drive in the third period.

Chargers Trim Houston, 27-0, Blanda Blanked

Oilers' Ace Shut Out First Time 45 Games

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego Chargers utilized a stout defense and an improvising offense to defeat the Houston Oilers 27-0 in a clash between the American Football League leaders Sunday.

The Chargers intercepted three passes and recovered two fumbles in shutting out Oiler quarterback George Blanda for the first time in 45 games and dealing Houston its first shutout since the league's initial year.

The field goal line-up figured heavily in Charger scoring.

San Diego defensive end Earl Faison blocked a Blanda field goal on the Charger 46, and five plays later fullback Keith Lincoln went 15 yards on a draw play for the game's opening score.

Charger George Blair's first field goal, a 42-yarder, gave the San Diego a 10-0 lead in the second period.

Houston's Bobby Jancik lost a fumble on the ensuing kickoff and the Chargers scored after eight bizarre plays covering 35 yards. A pass interference call in the end zone set up Paul Lowe's two yard touchdown run.

The Chargers finished their scoring when Rote tossed a 22-yard scoring pass to flanker back Lance Alworth.

The win left the Chargers 9-2, two games ahead of Oakland in the Western Division.

Houston, 6-5 in the East, fell into a virtual tie with Boston, 6-5-1.

Parilli Leads Boston To Win

Patriots Whip Buffalo, 17-7

BOSTON (AP) — Aging quarterback Babe Parilli rallied the Boston Patriots to a 17-7 American Football League victory over Buffalo Sunday, passing for one touchdown and scoring the other after setting it up.

Parilli wasn't able to move the Patriots across midfield in the first half as the Bills grabbed a 7-0 lead on Cookie Gilchrist's two yard run that capped an 80-yard drive.

But the 34-year-old Parilli, engineered the tying touchdown in the third quarter, sending his halfback Larry Garron through the line without the ball, then passing it to him. Garron raced the rest of the way, the play covering 44 yards.

The next time Boston got the ball, Parilli combined with end Art Graham on the 63-yard pass play to Buffalo's 14. Four plays later Parilli went around left end for the final two yards.

Gino Cappelletti booted his 18th field goal of the season early in the fourth quarter, making good on a 43-yarder into a 20 mile an hour wind. He also kicked two conversions to raise his league-leading point total to 96.

Vikings Hold Bears To 17-17 Tie; Tittle Sets Passing Record

Wade's TD Pass Enables Chicago To Retain Lead

Tarkenton Injured, Ron Vander Kelen Stars For Losers

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Wade's eight-yard touchdown pass to Joe Marconi after inspired Minnesota fumbled away apparent victory gave the Chicago Bears a 17-17 tie with the Vikings Sunday to keep the Bears the Western Division leaders in the National Football League.

It was the second successive 17-17 deadlock played by the Bears, who last Sunday tied the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Bears, nearly an upset victim by the substitute quarterbacking of Ron VanderKelen, now hold the divisional lead with a 9-1-2 record, one-half game ahead of runner-up Green Bay with 9-2-1.

Tarkenton Injured

VanderKelen entered the game with only two minutes gone when Viking star Fran Tarkenton was injured and directed the Vikings brilliantly, tossing his first NFL touchdown pass to give Minnesota a 17-3 lead in the second quarter.

Tarkenton did not re-enter the game until the Bears tied it at 17-17 midway in the fourth period on the Wade-to-Marconi scoring shot.

The Bears got the big break of the game when Tommy Mason fumbled and Rosy Taylor recovered for the Bears on the Viking 31. Two plays later, Wade found Marconi wide open in the end zone. Rookie Bob Jencks' conversion knotted the score.

Bears Outbattled

The Bears were outbattled most of the way by the team they had beaten 28-7 in Minnesota on Sept. 22. They were held to only 22 yards rushing in the first half and finally got back in the game in the third quarter. Wade capped a 49-yard march with a one-yard touchdown sneak, trimming the Minnesota lead to 17-10.

The Vikings moved ahead 3-0 on Fred Cox's 16-yard field goal in the first quarter. But the Bears tied it in the same period on Roger Leclerc's fielder, also a 16-yarder.

In the second period, the Vikings scored two touchdowns. The first came as VanderKelen guided Minnesota 42 yards and Tom Wilson smashed over from the two.

Vandy, who had previously completed 12 of 16 tosses as Tarkenton's substitute, cut loose with a pass play covering 53 yards with Gordon Smith on the receiving end.

Ryan, Brown Keep Cleveland In Tie For Lead

Browns Turn Back Cardinals, 24-10

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rejuvenated Frank Ryan and record-breaking Jimmy Brown kept Cleveland in a tie for first place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League Sunday as they led the Browns over St. Louis, 24-10.

The Browns are now tied for first with the New York Giants, who downed the Dallas Cowboys 34-27.

Cleveland, St. Louis and New York entered Sunday's games tied for the Eastern lead, each with 8-3 records.

Knocked From Lead

The Cardinal defeat knocked St. Louis a game back of the pacesetters with two games left.

Brown, who went short yardage for two touchdowns, broke his own single-season rushing record by gaining 179 yards on 29 carries for a season total of 1,677 yards. He needed 30 yards to shatter the mark of 1,527 he set in 1958.

Ryan, benched two weeks ago when the Cardinals beat the Browns, 20-14, riddled the St. Louis defense with his passes for 210 yards. He threw 23 yards to Rich Kreitling for the first score and set up the other two with his long-distance tossing.

Wrap Up Game Early

The Browns wrapped up the game in the first half as Ryan engineered them to a 21-3 lead. He got them a touchdown the first time they got the ball after Paul Wiggin recovered a fumble by Bill Triplett of the Cardinals on the St. Louis 48. Ryan ran for a first down and then pitched to Kreitling for the score.

After the Cardinals managed their field goal, Ryan came back with a 49-yarder to Tom Hutchinson to set up Brown's drive for the score.

Ryan got the Browns moving again from their 27 in a march against the clock, helped by his toss to Gary Collins for 33 yards and his own 18-yard run for a first down. Brown scored with 33 seconds left.

Triplett and Joe Childress combined to pick up most of the yardage on a 83-yard scoring drive in the third period.

Childress went over from the eight.

Oilers' Ace Shut Out First Time 45 Games

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego Chargers utilized a stout defense and an improvising offense to defeat the Houston Oilers 27-0 in a clash between the American Football League leaders Sunday.

The Chargers intercepted three passes and recovered two fumbles in shutting out Oiler quarterback George Blanda for the first time in 45 games and dealing Houston its first shutout since the league's initial year.

The field goal line-up figured heavily in Charger scoring.

San Diego defensive end Earl Faison blocked a Blanda field goal on the Charger 46, and five plays later fullback Keith Lincoln went 15 yards on a draw play for the game's opening score.

Charger George Blair's first field goal, a 42-yarder, gave the San Diego a 10-0 lead in the second period.

Houston's Bobby Jancik lost a fumble on the ensuing kickoff and the Chargers scored after eight bizarre plays covering 35 yards. A pass interference call in the end zone set up Paul Lowe's two yard touchdown run.

The Chargers finished their scoring when Rote tossed a 22-yard scoring pass to flanker back Lance Alworth.

The win left the Chargers 9-2, two games ahead of Oakland in the Western Division.

Houston, 6-5 in the East, fell into a virtual tie with Boston, 6-5-1.

West Virginia Deer Season Opens Today

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —Thousands of West Virginia hunters are expected to brave the snow and cold Monday in the opening of the state's 1963 firearms season on deer.

The season will continue through Saturday and is again a bucks-only season. The limit is one per hunter. Each deer taken must be tagged and presented at the nearest aging station for checks.

Deer hunting will be permitted generally north of east-west U.S. 60 and in Raleigh, Summers and Monroe Counties.

Y.A.'s Career Total For TD Passes 197; N.Y. Tied For Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Y. A. Tittle set a National Football League record for touchdown passes Sunday in lifting the New York Giants to an uphill 34-27 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

New York's triumph kept the Giants in a tie for the NFL's Eastern Division lead with the Cleveland Browns, who knocked off the St. Louis Cardinals 24-10 Sunday.

Harried by a terrific pass rush in the first half, when Cornell Green intercepted two of his throws and turned them into touchdowns, Tittle came back to guide the Giants to 20 points in the last half.

Beats Layne's Record

His nine-yard shot to Frank Gifford and a 17-yard scoring throw to Del Shofner gave him the career record for touchdown passes. He now has 197 — one more than the record set by Bobby Layne.

The balding 38-year-old Tittle passed New York into position for one touchdown, tossing nine yards to Gifford; his passing set up the third New York touchdown, which he made himself with a one-yard smash; his passing set up a field goal and his scoring throw to Shofner was the payoff.

Jerry Hillebrand scored the first Giant touchdown on a brilliant maneuver, first batting a Don Meredith pass into the air, then grabbing it and stepping into the end zone.

Don Chandler kicked two field goals, one for 53 yards — a Giants' club record.

Perkins Scores Thrice

Don Perkins, who ripped the New York line all afternoon, ran over three Dallas touchdowns. Amos Marsh made the other one.

A crowd of 29,653 fans watched the game played in the Cotton Bowl.

Colts Defeat 'Skins, 36-20

Unitas Sparkles For Baltimore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnny Unitas, as deceptive as a sideshow magician, passed for three touchdowns Sunday as he led Baltimore to an easy National Football League 36-20 victory over Washington.

Unitas kept the Redskins in an almost constant state of confusion with his play calling. He connected on 24 of 37 passes for 355 yards and ran for key yardage himself on several occasions.

The clever quarterback sent the Colts into a 16-7 halftime lead with second quarter touchdown passes of 30 yards to John Mackey and two yards to Ray Berry, and Washington never caught up.

Washington threatened to make a contest of it early in the third quarter, moving 80 yards in four plays to make the score 16-13. Dick James raced around end from the three for the score after a 62-yard pass to Don Bosseler put the ball in scoring position.

Jim Martin then kicked a 37-yard field goal to stretch the Colt lead. In all, Martin kicked three field goals, with the other two from nine yards and 41 yards.

Unitas broke the game wide open in the fourth quarter with two quick touchdowns. He set up the first with a 10-yard run to the 10 after he was trapped trying to pass. Then, he sent Jerry Hill slamming through the middle 10 yards for the score.

Minutes later, Unitas took the Colts 76 yards in nine plays, this time it was a 28-yard toss to Jimmy Orr that was good for the touchdown.

Parilli Leads Boston To Win

Patriots Whip Buffalo, 17-7

BOSTON (AP) — Aging quarterback Babe Parilli rallied the Boston Patriots to a 17-7 American Football League victory over Buffalo Sunday, passing for one touchdown and scoring the other after setting it up.

Parilli wasn't able to move the Patriots across midfield in the first half as the Bills grabbed a 7-0 lead on Cookie Gilchrist's two yard run that capped an 80-yard drive.

But the 34-year-old Parilli, engineered the tying touchdown in the third quarter, sending his halfback Larry Garron through the line without the ball, then passing it to him. Garron raced the rest of the way, the play covering 44 yards.

The next time Boston got the ball, Parilli combined with end Art Graham on the 63-yard pass play to Buffalo's 14. Four plays later Parilli went around left end for the final two yards.

Gino Cappelletti booted his 18th field goal of the season early in the fourth quarter, making good on a 43-yarder into a 20 mile an hour wind. He also kicked two conversions to raise his league-leading point total to 96.

Eddie Machen Fined $100 For Unfair Tactics

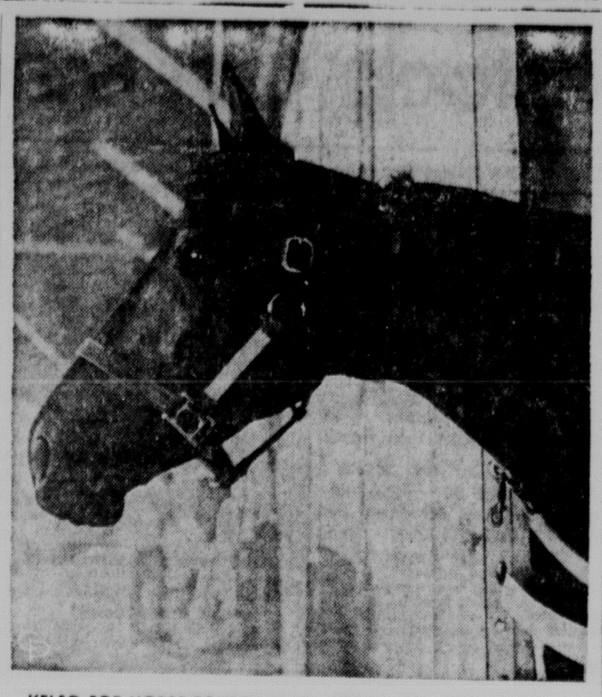

Fouled Dave Bailey Before K.O. At Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Heavyweight Eddie Machen was fined $100 for "unfair tactics" following his eighth-round knockout victory over Dave Bailey in a scheduled 10-rounder Saturday night.

Fans booed loudly when Machen, 191½, apparently kneed Bailey in the groin early in the sixth round. The fight was held up six minutes before the 200-pound Philadelphian was ready to continue. Referee Jimmy Olivas ruled a foul, and the round was awarded to Bailey.

In announcing the fine, the Nevada State Athletic Commission said Machen had made "a deliberate attempt to seriously jeopardize the chances of his opponent." The ruling noted that the attempt was "not completed, there was no injury to Bailey in the opinion of Referee Jimmy Olivas to the commission."

Machen, who fights out of Berkeley, Calif., knocked Bailey down twice in the eighth round, the second time at 2:35. Fans were brought to their feet again when Olivas had to pull Machen away from the prostrate Bailey before starting the final count.

Steelers Tie Eagles, 20-20

Lou Michaels' Goal Caps Late Surge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 24-yard goal by Lou Michaels with 40 seconds remaining capped a fourth quarter Pittsburgh surge and gave the Steelers a 20-20 tie with Philadelphia Sunday in a wild National Football League game.

The tie, the second between the two teams this season and the third for Pittsburgh, kept the Steelers in the running for the Eastern Division crown. They have won six and lost three.

Michaels' field goal came after Ed Brown had passed the Steelers from their own 21 to the Eagles' 16. There the drive stalled.

Brown, who had four passes intercepted during the game, finally found the range in the fourth quarter when he hit on scoring tosses of 57 and eight yards to end Gary Ballman.

The Steelers came close to another TD on the final play of the second quarter when Buddy Dial made a fantastic over-the-head catch of a Brown pass and fell out of bounds on the Eagles' two.

However, the clock ran out on the play which covered 55 yards.

Philadelphia got both of its touchdowns within 40 seconds in the second period. The first came on a 24-yard pass from King Hill to Pete Retzlaff and was set up when linebacker Dave Lloyd intercepted a Brown pass.

The second was set up when Gary Ballman fumbled the ensuing kickoff on the Pittsburgh 14 and Lee Roy Caffey pounced on the ball. It was scored on a 14-yard dash through left tackle by Tim Brown.

Mike Clark, who converted after each TD, also booted field goals of 23 and 40 yards in the second half.

Michaels also kicked a 10-yard field goal in the second period.

Kentucky's Wildcats Appear On Road Back In Basketball

Score 75-64 Win, Cincinnati, Gophers And Duke Triumph

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kentucky Wildcats seem to be on the road back in college basketball after a dismal season a year ago.

Despite the fears of Coach Adolph Rupp that his boys from the bluegrass country were overrated by being voted No. 9 in The Associated Press preseason poll, the Wildcats opened their season impressively Saturday night with a 75-64 victory over Virginia.

Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken each tallied 28 points in Kentucky's victory at Lexington on the official opening night of the collegiate season.

Gophers Surprise

Minnesota's 76-66 victory over Kansas State was perhaps the only surprise of an action-crammed night that saw Cincinnati, Duke, Wichita, Ohio State, Michigan, Oregon State, Toledo and Davidson win.

Cincinnati, No. 3 in the AP poll, crushed George Washington 101-65; Duke, No. 4, walta, No. 5, whipped Wyoming 82-67; Ohio State, No. 7, breezed against the Davis of California 68-42, Michigan, No. 8, rolled over Ball State 90-76.

Toledo lived up its dark-horse label by swamping Tulane 96-60 and Davidson, favored to replace West Virginia as champs in the Southern Conference, coasted over Hampden-Sydney 958-2. West Virginia just nipped Furman 67-65 on Ricky Ray's jump shot with one second left.

Defending national champion Chicago Loyola and New York University, rated one-two in the AP poll, open their season this week as does sixth-ranked Arizona State and 10th-ranked Oregon State.

Ron Bonham's 31 points led Cincinnati's romp. Jeff Mullins sparked Duke with 25 and Dave Stallworth scored 36 for Wichita. Gary Bradds flipped in 20 for Ohio State as the Buckeyes won their 49th straight home victory. Sophomore Cazzie Russell got 30 for Michigan.

Jones Paces Toledo

Larry Jones, out last season with a broken wrist, paced Toledo with 37 points, while big Fred Hetzel netted 31 for Davidson although sitting out most of the second half.

Minnesota hit on 44 per cent of its field goal tries in upsetting Kansas State, regarded as a top challenger to Oklahoma State in the Big Eight.

In other games it was: Creighton 85, Colorado 72; San Francisco 88, Nevada 64; Illinois 59, Butler 52; Pitt 82, Fairfield 62; Duquesne 99, American 59; LaSalle 76, Albright 44; Utah 98, Fresno State 89; Texas Western 87, North Texas 55; North Carolina State 69, VMI 57; Virginia Tech 77, Richmond 53; and Northwestern 80, Western Michigan 78 on Rick Falk's 25-foot shot for the Wildcats at the final buzzer.

Lakers Nose Out Royals, 114-109

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Los Angeles Lakers pulled away in the final minute to snap the Cincinnati Royals' five game win streak, 114-109, Sunday night despite a career high of 39 points by Royal pivotman Wayne Embry.

Jerry West connected on 13 of 21 field goal attempts in leading the Lakers with 37 points, but Rudy Larusso provided the key play for Los Angeles. Larusso took a rebound from Jerry Lucas under the Lakers' offensive boards and flipped in a backhand layup to give his team a 110-107 lead with 1:25 remaining.

Coast League Will Continue With 10 Clubs

Ints Have Eight, Consider Twelve

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Baseball's winter meetings got under way Sunday with the Pacific Coast League voting to continue as a 10-team league in 1964 and the International League voting to operate with only eight clubs, but ready to "consider" expansion to a 12-team circuit.

The PCL, which operates with clubs 4,000 miles apart, wants to continue as it did in 1963 when it had a very successful season with the biggest attendance in recent years. But the International Loop, which operated as a 10-team circuit last season, would like to reduce to eight this year.

Vote Eight Clubs In

"We have voted to go with eight teams and would consider going to 12, providing we had a chance to look over a 12-club schedule and consider travel costs," said Thomas Richardson, president of the International League.

The travel costs were a bone of contention during last year's meeting when the majors finally agreed to help defray the added transportation expense of Indianapolis and Little Rock, which were added to the circuit in last year's general reorganization of the minors.

Little Rock and Indianapolis were in the league on a probation basis and their agreement expires at this meeting. League officials were discussing whether to retain the two cities and reportedly were in favor of doing so.

Had Ten Clubs In 1962

The International League was composed of Toronto, Rochester Syracuse, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Columbus, Richmond, Little Rock, Atlanta and Jacksonville last year.

"We just can't leave a city like Indianapolis out of organized baseball," said Rosy Ryan, general manager of the Tacoma club of the Pacific Coast League. "That city has had professional baseball for more than 50 years. We can't shunt it aside."

If the International League kept Indianapolis and Little Rock it would like to add Oklahoma City and Dallas from the PCL for a 12-team circuit.

On the other hand, if Indianapolis and Little Rock were added to the PCL the loop would be divided into two divisions. In the west would be Hawaii, Tacoma, Spokane, Seattle, Portland and San Diego.

The Eastern division would have, in addition to Little Rock and Indianapolis, Oklahoma City Dallas, Denver and Salt Lake City.

Navy Or Pitt To Play Texas In Cotton Bowl

Rose, Sugar, Cotton Bowl Teams Named

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who gets the crack at Texas and its proud No. 1 ranking in the Cotton Bowl—Navy or Pittsburgh?

This is the king-sized question as the college football season moves to a climax this weekend with an abbreviated program headed by the 64th Army-Navy game at Philadelphia and Pitt's battle with Penn State at Pittsburgh.

Line-ups for the Rose, Sugar, Orange and Bluebonnet Bowls were completed with last Saturday's games, leaving the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia and the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., with gaping cavities in the post-season plans.

Rose—Illinois, 7-1-1, vs. Washington, 6-4.

Sugar—Mississippi, 7-0-2, vs. Alabama, 7-2.

Orange — Nebraska, 9-1, vs. Auburn, 9-1.

Cotton—Texas, 10-0, vs. Navy, 8-1, or Pittsburgh, 8-1.

Bluebonnet at Houston, Tex. Dec. 21—Louisiana State, 7-3, vs. Baylor, 6-3.

Liberty, Dec. 28 — Syracuse, 8-2, top candidate for host spot. Other spot wide open.

Gator, Dec. 28—North Carolina, 8-2, vs. opponents to be picked. Leading prospects are Mississippi State, 6-2-2, Air Force, 6-3, and Syracuse, 8-2.

The Cotton Bowl is delaying until after the Army-Navy and Pitt-Penn State games a decision on an opponent for Texas, team and potential national champion.

Originally, second - ranked Navy, with the exciting Heisman Trophy winner Roger Staubach at quarterback, was figured a cinch for the assignment, but plans were thrown awry by the assassination of the Commander-in-Chief, President Kennedy, on a Dallas street.

The delicate decision will have to be made by the Pentagon, and may wind up ultimately in the lap of President Lyndon B. Johnson, himself a Texan.

Must Beat Army

"We haven't even thought about a bowl," said Navy Coach Wayne Hardin Sunday. "We're thinking only of Army. If we don't beat Army, we don't go anywhere."

If it is finally ruled indiscreet or impractical for Navy to play in the Cotton Bowl, the honor of tackling the Longhorns almost certainly will fall to Pitt, a powerful team which has mowed down eight of nine strong opponents, including a 28-0 rout of Army. Pitt's only loss was to Navy, 24-12.

Hal Greer Scores 43, 76ers Win, 132-121

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Hal Greer scored 43 points for the second straight night while leading the Philadelphia 76ers to a 132-121 victory over the Detroit Pistons Sunday night in a National Basketball Association game.

Greer, who had 43 against New York last night, led Philadelphia's fast breaking attack with 17 field goals and nine of 10 from the foul line.

It was the third straight triumph for the Rams and the fifth in seven games since Gabriel took over at quarterback.

The deciding points came six minutes into the third quarter. A Grabriel pass to Carroll Dale for 49 yards put the Rams on the five and two plays later Art Perkins pushed over from the one, making the score 21-10.

Abe Woodson intercepted a Gabriel pass and ran it back 61 yards to set up the last 49er touchdown in the fourth period. Bobby Waters passed 14 yards to J.D. Smith for the score.

It was Waters' first play of the game. He remained at quarterback but threw two interceptions that killed 49er chances.

Eddie Machen Fined $100 For Unfair Tactics

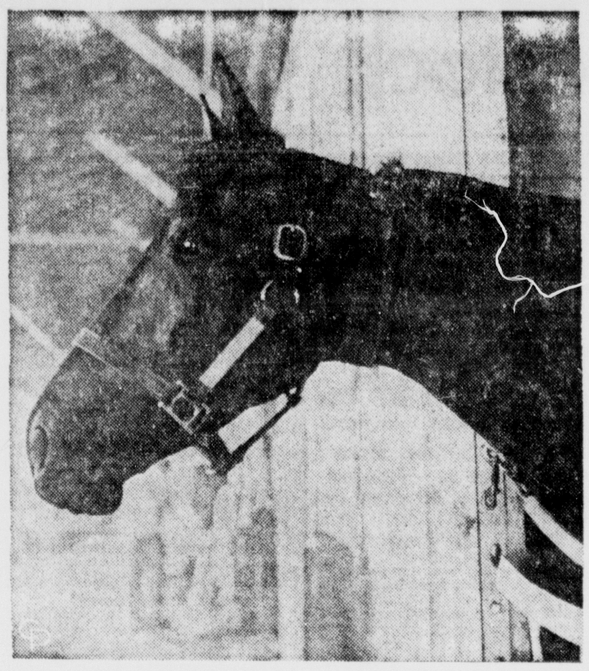

Fouled Dave Bailey Before K.O. At Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Heavyweight Eddie Machen was fined $100 for "unfair tactics" following his eighth-round knockout victory over Dave Bailey in a scheduled 10-rounder Saturday night.

Fans booed loudly when Machen, 191½, apparently kneed Bailey in the groin early in the sixth round. The fight was held up six minutes before the 200-pound Philadelphian was ready to continue. Referee Jimmy Olivas ruled a foul, and the round was awarded to Bailey.

In announcing the fine, the Nevada State Athletic Commission said Machen had made "a deliberate attempt to seriously jeopardize the chances of his opponent." The ruling noted that the attempt was "not completed, there was no injury to Bailey in the opinion of Referee Jimmy Olivas to the commission."

Machen, who fights out of Berkeley, Calif., knocked Bailey down twice in the eighth round, the second time at 2:35. Fans were brought to their feet again when Olivas had to pull Machen away from the prostrate Bailey before starting the final count.

Kentucky's Wildcats Appear On Road Back In Basketball

Score 75-64 Win, Cincinnati, Gophers And Duke Triumph

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kentucky Wildcats seem to be on the road back in college basketball after a dismal season a year ago.

Despite the fears of Coach Adolph Rupp that his boys from the bluegrass country were overrated by being voted No. 9 in The Associated Press preseason poll, the Wildcats opened their season impressively Saturday night with a 75-64 victory over Virginia.

Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken each tallied 28 points in Kentucky's victory at Lexington on the official opening night of the collegiate season.

Gophers Surprise

Minnesota's 76-66 victory over Kansas State was perhaps the only surprise of an action-crammed night that saw Cincinnati, Duke, Wichita, Ohio State, Michigan, Oregon State, Toledo and Davidson win.

Cincinnati, No. 3 in the AP poll, crushed George Washington 101-65; Duke, No. 4, walta, No. 5, whipped Wyoming 82-67; Ohio State, No. 7, breezed against the Davis of California 68-42, Michigan, No. 8, rolled over Ball State 90-76.

Toledo lived up its dark-horse label by swamping Tulane 96-60 and Davidson, favored to replace West Virginia as champs in the Southern Conference, coasted over Hampden-Sydney 958-2. West Virginia just nipped Furman 67-65 on Ricky Ray's jump shot with one second left.

Defending national champion Chicago Loyola and New York University, rated one-two in the AP poll, open their season this week as does sixth-ranked Arizona State and 10th-ranked Oregon State.

Ron Bonham's 31 points led Cincinnati's romp. Jeff Mullins sparked Duke with 25 and Dave Stallworth scored 36 for Wichita. Gary Bradds flipped in 20 for Ohio State as the Buckeyes won their 49th straight home victory. Sophomore Cazzie Russell got 30 for Michigan.

Jones Paces Toledo

Larry Jones, out last season with a broken wrist, paced Toledo with 37 points, while big Fred Hetzel netted 31 for Davidson although sitting out most of the second half.

Minnesota hit on 44 per cent of its field goal tries in upsetting Kansas State, regarded as a top challenger to Oklahoma State in the Big Eight.

In other games it was: Creighton 85, Colorado 72; San Francisco 88, Nevada 64; Illinois 59, Butler 52; Pitt 82, Fairfield 62; Duquesne 99, American 59; LaSalle 76, Albright 44; Utah 98, Fresno State 89; Texas Western 87, North Texas 55; North Carolina State 69, VMI 57; Virginia Tech 77, Richmond 53; and Northwestern 80, Western Michigan 78 on Rick Falk's 25-fooi shot for the Wildcats at the final buzzer.

Steelers Tie Eagles, 20-20

Lou Michaels' Goal Caps Late Surge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 24-yard goal by Lou Michaels with 40 seconds remaining capped a fourth quarter Pittsburgh surge and gave the Steelers a 20-20 tie with Philadelphia Sunday in a wild National Football League game.

The tie, the second between the two teams this season and the third for Pittsburgh, kept the Steelers in the running for the Eastern Division crown. They have won six and lost three.

Michaels' field goal came after Ed Brown had passed the Steelers from their own 21 to the Eagles' 16. There the drive stalled.

Brown, who had four passes intercepted during the game, finally found the range in the fourth quarter when he hit on scoring tosses of 57 and eight yards to end Gary Ballman.

The Steelers came close to another TD on the final play of the second quarter when Buddy Dial made a fantastic over-the-head catch of a Brown pass and fell out of bounds on the Eagles' two.

However, the clock ran out on the play which covered 55 yards.

Philadelphia got both of its touchdowns within 40 seconds in the second period. The first came on a 24-yard pass from King Hill to Pete Retzlaff and was set up when linebacker Dave Lloyd intercepted a Brown pass.

The second was set up when Gary Ballman fumbled the ensuing kickoff on the Pittsburgh 14 and Lee Roy Caffey pounced on the ball. It was scored on a 14-yard dash through left tackle by Tim Brown.

Mike Clark, who converted after each TD, also booted field goals of 23 and 40 yards in the second half.

Michaels also kicked a 10-yard field goal in the second period.

Coast League Will Continue With 10 Clubs

Ints Have Eight, Consider Twelve

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Baseball's winter meetings got under way Sunday with the Pacific Coast League voting to continue as a 10-team league in 1964 and the International League voting to operate with only eight clubs, but ready to "consider" expansion to a 12-team circuit.

The PCL, which operates with clubs 4,000 miles apart, wants to continue as it did in 1963 when it had a very successful season with the biggest attendance in recent years. But the International Loop, which operated as a 10-team circuit last season, would like to reduce to eight this year.

Vote Eight Clubs In

"We have voted to go with eight teams and would consider going to 12, providing we had a chance to look over a 12-club schedule and consider travel costs," said Thomas Richardson, president of the International League.

The travel costs were a bone of contention during last year's meeting when the majors finally agreed to help defray the added transportation expense of Indianapolis and Little Rock, which were added to the circuit in last year's general reorganization of the minors.

Little Rock and Indianapolis were in the league on a probation basis and their agreement expires at this meeting. League officials were discussing whether to retain the two cities and reportedly were in favor of doing so.

Had Ten Clubs In 1962

The International League was composed of Toronto, Rochester Syracuse, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Columbus, Richmond, Little Rock, Atlanta and Jacksonville last year.

"We just can't leave a city like Indianapolis out of organized baseball," said Rosy Ryan, general manager of the Tacoma club of the Pacific Coast League. "That city has had professional baseball for more than 50 years. We can't shunt it aside."

If the International League kept Indianapolis and Little Rock it would like to add Oklahoma City and Dallas from the PCL for a 12-team circuit.

On the other hand, if Indianapolis and Little Rock were added to the PCL the loop would be divided into two divisions. In the west would be Hawaii, Tacoma, Spokane, Seattle, Portland and San Diego.

The Eastern division would have, in addition to Little Rock and Indianapolis, Oklahoma City Dallas, Denver and Salt Lake City.

Lakers Nose Out Royals, 114-109

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Los Angeles Lakers pulled away in the final minute to snap the Cincinnati Royals' five game win streak, 114-109, Sunday night despite a career high of 39 points by Royal pivotman Wayne Embry.

Jerry West connected on 13 of 21 field goal attempts in leading the Lakers with 37 points, but Rudy Larusso provided the key play for Los Angeles. Larusso took a rebound from Jerry Lucas under the Lakers' offensive boards and flipped in a backhand layup to give his team a 110-107 lead with 1:25 remaining.

Navy Or Pitt To Play Texas In Cotton Bowl

Rose, Sugar, Cotton Bowl Teams Named

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who gets the crack at Texas and its proud No. 1 ranking in the Cotton Bowl—Navy or Pittsburgh?

This is the king-sized question as the college football season moves to a climax this weekend with an abbreviated program headed by the 64th Army-Navy game at Philadelphia and Pitt's battle with Penn State at Pittsburgh.

Line-ups for the Rose, Sugar, Orange and Bluebonnet Bowls were completed with last Saturday's games, leaving the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia and the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., with gaping cavities in the post-season plans.

Rose—Illinois, 7-1-1, vs. Washington, 6-4.

Sugar—Mississippi, 7-0-2, vs. Alabama, 7-2.

Orange — Nebraska, 9-1, vs. Auburn, 9-1.

Cotton—Texas, 10-0, vs. Navy, 8-1, or Pittsburgh, 8-1.

Bluebonnet at Houston, Tex. Dec. 21—Louisiana State, 7-3, vs. Baylor, 6-3.

Liberty, Dec. 28 — Syracuse, 8-2, top candidate for host spot. Other spot wide open.

Gator, Dec. 28—North Carolina, 8-2, vs. opponents to be picked. Leading prospects are Mississippi State, 6-2-2, Air Force, 6-3, and Syracuse, 8-2.

The Cotton Bowl is delaying until after the Army-Navy and Pitt-Penn State games a decision on an opponent for Texas, team and potential national champion.

Originally, second - ranked Navy, with the exciting Heisman Trophy winner Roger Staubach at quarterback, was figured a cinch for the assignment, but plans were thrown awry by the assassination of the Commander-in-Chief, President Kennedy, on a Dallas street.

The delicate decision will have to be made by the Pentagon, and may wind up ultimately in the lap of President Lyndon B. Johnson, himself a Texan.

Must Beat Army

"We haven't even thought about a bowl," said Navy Coach Wayne Hardin Sunday. "We're thinking only of Army. If we don't beat Army, we don't go anywhere."

If it is finally ruled indiscreet or impractical for Navy to play in the Cotton Bowl, the honor of tackling the Longhorns almost certainly will fall to Pitt, a powerful team which has mowed down eight of nine strong opponents, including a 28-0 rout of Army. Pitt's only loss was to Navy, 24-12.

Gabriel's Passes Sink 49ers, 21-17

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Roman Gabriel's passes set up three touchdowns Sunday that gave the Los Angeles Rams a 21-17 National Football League victory over San Francisco.

It was the third straight triumph for the Rams and the fifth in seven games since Gabriel took over at quarterback.

The deciding points came six minutes into the third quarter. A Grabriel pass to Carroll Dale for 49 yards put the Rams on the five and two plays later Art Perkins pushed over from the one, making the score 21-10.

Abe Woodson intercepted a Gabriel pass and ran it back 61 yards to set up the last 49er touchdown in the fourth period. Bobby Waters passed 14 yards to J.D. Smith for the score.

It was Waters' first play of the game. He remained at quarterback but threw two interceptions that killed 49er chances.

Hetzel Scores 31

Fred Hetzel, last season's Wildcat star, dumped 31 points through the hoops and snatched 13 rebounds in leading Davidson College to a 98-52 victory over Hampden-Sydney College Saturday night.

Davidson takes on Wake Forest tonight at Charlotte, N. C.

Mountaineers Test The Citadel After Victory Over Furman

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI)—The West Virginia University basketball squad, still a little breathless from Saturday's last-second win over Furman, tries to make it two in a row in Southern Conference action here Monday against The Citadel.

The Mountaineers, considered among contenders for the 1963 conference title, opened their season with a nerve-wracking 67-65 win over the Paladins at nearby Greenville.

The win came on an eight-foot jump shot by six-foot junior Ricky Ray an instant before the final gun sounded. The speedy the Mountaineer scoring with 16 points.

Six-foot-eight center Tom Lowry, one of the veterans back from last year, followed Ray in the scoring for WVU with 14 points.

Jules (Buddy) Quertinmont and Bill Maphis were next with eight points each, followed by Donnie Weir and Marty Lentz with six each.

Hawks Tie Rangers

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Black Hawks scored twice in the third period Sunday night to tie the New York Rangers 3-3 and remain unbeaten in the 12 home games played this season.

McDonald Dismissed As Tennessee Coach

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.(AP)—Jim McDonald was dismissed Sunday as head football coach at the University of Tennessee and at the same time rehired as assistant director of athletics.

Dr. Earl Ramer, chairman of the athletics board, made the announcement at an especially called news conference.

McDonald, who had been named head coach last June 20 to succeed Bowden Wyatt, directed Tennessee to a 5-5 record during the season which ended Saturday with a 14-0 victory over Vanderbilt.

Ramer said the board will meet Monday to discuss prospects for McDonald's successor.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of James M. Gordon who passed away 1 year ago today, 12 December 1962.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your gentle place.
Sadly missed by wife, son, daughter and their families.

In loving memory of James E. Pague who passed away December 2, 1962.
Do not ask me if I miss him
There's such a vacant place.
Oft I think I hear his foot steps,
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears in silence often flow.
Memories keep him ever near me,
Though he left me one year ago.
Sadly missed by Wife and Family

In Memoriam

In loving memory of James M. Gordon who passed away 1 year ago today, 12 December 1962.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your gentle place.
Sadly missed by wife, son, daughter and their families.

In loving memory of James E. Pague who passed away December 2, 1962.
Do not ask me if I miss him
There's such a vacant place.
Oft I think I hear his foot steps,
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears in silence often flow.
Memories keep him ever near me,
Though he left me one year ago.
Sadly missed by Wife and Family

Four Persons Badly Hurt In Area Crashes

Several Treated In Hospitals

Four persons were admitted and several others treated in area hospitals over the weekend in a series of accidents in nearby Mineral County.

One local man was seriously and another slightly injured when the car in which they were riding crashed on W. Va. Route 28 at the Miltenberger Straight early yesterday morning.

The accident occurred about 12:30 a.m. as a car driven by Timothy Jude McGreevy, 22, of 266 North Mechanic Street, was en route to Romney, W. Va.

Mr. McGreevy was treated in Memorial Hospital here for a laceration on the side of the head.

James Schute, 22, of 633 Bedford Street, Cumberland, riding with him, was thrown from the car and was admitted to Memorial Hospital for treatment of a possible back injury. He was reported in "fair" condition last night.

Another passenger, James Rosenmarkle, 823 National Highway, LaVale, was uninjured.

Trooper Donald Elmore, of the Keyser state police detachment, who is investigating, said he was told McGreevy was attempting to pass another car which stopped on the highway.

He said McGreevy reported that as he pulled out, his car struck the other vehicle and was pushed to the left of the highway and over a bank, stopping in a wooded area. Witnesses said the car narrowly escaped striking a tree. The vehicle was described as a total loss.

The injured men were brought to the hospital here by the McDonald ambulance service.

Hits Embankment

An Arlington, Va., woman was injured yesterday afternoon when the car she was driving crashed on U. S. 50 at the foot of Allegany Front.

She was identified as Miss Sandra Corbitt, 26, who was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

Miss Corbitt was reported in "fair" condition and was suffering from a laceration of the forehead, bruises and a possible knee injury.

Cpl. F. W. Armstrong, who investigated, said Miss Corbitt was injured about 3 p.m. when the car she was driving skidded on the wet highway about eight miles from Keyser and hit an embankment.

A Keyser man was seriously injured about 9 p. m. Saturday in an accident on Route 46, the Fort Ashby Road, near the Crites Trading Post No. 2.

He is Ernest Webster Walker, about 39, of Keyser, who was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital for the treatment of undetermined injuries. He was reported in "fair" condition yesterday.

State Police said he was a passenger in a car being driven east on Route 46 by Frank True, 26, of Keyser, who ran off the road, through a fence and into a field.

A wrecker summoned from Keyser to move the damaged car was later struck by a car driven by Richard Rilley, of Route 1, Keyser.

Cpl. Armstrong is investigating.

Truck, Car Collide

One man was admitted to the Keyser hospital Saturday after a truck-car collision at the junction of old and new U. S. 220 just south of Keyser.

The accident occurred at 4:30 p. m. as a pulpwood truck operated by Charles Herod Mathias, 18, Wardensville, collided with a car driven by Leonard Combs Cook, 57, of 178 Center Street, Keyser.

Trooper Elmore, who is investigating, said the accident occurred when Cook, coming out of old Route 220, failed to yield the right of way.

Mr. Mathias was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital and released yesterday following treatment for cuts and lacerations of the head and bruises.

A passenger in the truck, Bruce Walker, of Wardensville, was uninjured.

Traffic on Route 220 was tied up for an hour after the accident.

Boy Scout Board To Meet Thursday

The combined November-December meeting of the board of Potomac Council No. 757, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at the council office on North Mechanic Street at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Victor D. Heisey, council president, urges all members to be present.

South End Christmas Lights Turned On Again

These leaders of the South Cumberland Business and Civic Association were on hand Thanksgiving night when the Virginia Avenue Christmas decorations were turned on for the first time. Pulling the switch is William B. Orndorff, retiring president of the association. Looking on, left to right, are Marcus A. Naughton, George Millenson, James F. Scarpelli, members of the yule decoration fund committee, and Quentin M. Rice, president-elect of the association. Others unable to attend the ceremony were Blair E. Ullery, financial secretary; Carl R. Amtower, another decoration committee member, and Floyd G. Harner, vice president-elect.

Storm Deposits Heavy Snowfall In Mountains

The snow emergency plan was lifted yesterday morning in Garrett County as State Roads Commission crews moved the last of some 12 inches of snow from main highways.

The safety plan, which requires the use of good snow tires or chains, was invoked for the first time this fall Friday night as heavy snow began to blanket all highways west of Eckhart.

Primary roads in Garrett County were entirely bare last night but were slippery in spots and secondary roads were about 75 per cent bare.

But authorities were still advising motorists to drive with care because of the presence of occasional slippery spots on all of the highways.

The snowfall, the second of the season in Garrett County, arrived on the eve of Saturday's full moon, which painted a chilly picture in the state's westernmost county yesterday afternoon as the thermometer slipped to the low 20s.

The heavy snowstorm arrived three weeks before the official opening of winter, which is due to arrive December 22 at 9:02 a. m.

The area's first snowstorm moved into the area on November 2 and brought blizzard-like conditions in the mountain areas and left about two inches of snow in the higher sections.

No new snow was reported falling in Western Maryland last night but Pennsylvania State Police said snow was reported in the Johnstown area.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike was free of snow last night and occasional traffic tie-ups were reported due to the heavy traffic and not to weather conditions.

The weekend storm was aggravated by high winds which brought drifting and poor visibility in some parts of Garrett County.

City Provides Many Vital Services For Building Fee

One of the bigger bargains offered by the City of Cumberland is the series of services provided when someone applies for a building permit.

The first service, in the case of a new building, is a study to determine if the structure, as planned, meets the requirements of the city's zoning ordinance.

If the plans fail to comply, the prospective builder is advised of the deficiencies and suggestions may be made for changing the plans so they will conform.

If no agreement is possible, the permit is disapproved and the builder advised to appeal to the Board of Zoning Appeals.

The builder will be advised by the City Engineering Department, before the permit is granted, whether water and sewer facilities are available and, if possible, of city plans for improvement of the street in case it is unimproved.

The net result is that the builder has reasonable assurance, once the permit is issued, that he can proceed with the construction stage of the project.

The present procedure calls for the prospective builder to pick up building permit application papers at City Hall, fill them in and submit the completed application, along with a set of plans.

Builders should also make application at the same time for a sewer permit, since sewer information must be cleared before a building permit can be issued.

Some of the questions which will be answered in connection with the application for a sewer tap is whether a sewer line is available, whether a tap is in and the amount of the sewer lien, if any, which is charged against the property.

When the builder is ready, a four-man survey crew stakes out the sewer connection. No additional charge is made for this service.

Applicants are urged to find the sewer tap before excavating for the foundation. One of the chief reasons for doing this first is to make sure that there is enough fall.

Officials point out that it usually takes three days to get all the information needed to issue a building permit. More time is needed if the building is large, since plans must be inspected to make sure they meet building and fire code requirements.

The first inspection during construction involves the footer, which Building Inspector George Scarlett checks for set back and side yards and the size of the footer in relation to the building.

He will check the site and suggest test borings in case the structure is to be built on a fill area or on unsuitable materials.

The next inspection is made after the foundation is in and the building is under roof. This involves a check on the layout, to make sure that provisions are made for windows and that good construction materials and methods are being followed.

Another check is made after sanitary and storm sewer lines are in place but before they are covered.

For the building permit fee, now $2 for each $1,000 of declared value, the city provides from four to eight inspections by the building inspector and for any needed services of the city engineer.

The inspections are made to check on the builder's compliance with the city's codes and regulations and to make sure that good materials and construction methods are being used but have nothing to do with the design of a building.

Fire Company To Elect

The Bowling Green Fire Company will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the fire hall. Officers for 1964 will be nominated.

High Pressure Water Line Breaks Here

Water Department crews were called out at noon yesterday after a high-pressure line broke at the intersection of Memorial and Kent avenues, according to Commissioner G. Ray Light.

He said Herbert Stallings, water superintendent, reported the line was back in service by 4:30 p. m.

Workers found the six-inch water main coming from the Fort Hill water tank was broken clear around.

The Water Department is continuing its relentless task of finding and stopping leaks in water system it serves.

Commissioner Light said that a Water Department crew recently repaired a leak in a two-inch line at the intersection of Avenue O and M in Potomac Park. Since the line is located outside the city, costs were charged to affected property owners.

He said several leaks were found on private property and that customers were asked to make prompt repairs.

Another Water Department crew last week began installing about 250 feet of six-inch water main on Beechwood in the White Oaks section. The line will be extended, Mr. Light said, as the area builds up.

Boy Injured By Falling Rock

Charles Cessna, 8, son of John Cessna Sr., RD 3, Hazen Road, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Saturday afternoon with possible head injuries he received when he was struck by falling rocks while playing near his home. He was reported in good condition yesterday.

Trainmen Will Discuss Award At Meeting

Mountain Division Lodge No. 267, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will read and discuss last Tuesday's presidential arbitration board's award at a meeting at 120 Arch Street at 12:30 p. m. today, according to James R. Corley, president.

All members are urged to attend and members of other brotherhood lodges will be admitted.

Arbitration Board No. 282 ruled in Washington last Tuesday that eventually 90 per cent of the firemen's jobs on freight trains and yard engines should be eliminated because their duties can be handled by other members of the crew.

The board made it clear that its attrition plans would work gradually and displace only a "comparatively small" number of the 40,000 railroad firemen during the two years it will be binding on carriers and union.

A copy of the arbitration award will be available for examination by members of the lodge this afternoon.

Minor Boys Face Hearings

Three minor boys arrested by city police last week in connection with car thefts are slated for hearings today in Allegany County Juvenile Court.

Police said two of the boys were released three months ago from the Maryland Training School, where they had been sent for the same cause.

Police said a fourth boy involved in the case had not been in trouble before.

All four, police said, were involved in the theft of a car last Tuesday from the B & O parking lot at Offutt Street.

They said the same car was stolen on Thanksgiving night by three of the boys and driven to Lonaconing. They were rounded up that night by Cpl. Murl Boggs, Detective Kenneth Morrissey and Officer Robert Hershberger.

Allegany Seniors Present Musical Friday, Saturday

"Bye Bye Birdie," a musical comedy, will be presented by the Allegany High School Senior Class in the school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Friday and Saturday.

The play centers around a teenage singing idol, Conrad Birdie, who is drafted into the Army. Further compications arise when Conrad's manager, Albert Peterson, has romance problems. Conrad is to kiss the president of the Sweet Apple, Ohio, chapter of the Conrad Birdie Fan Club before he goes into the Army.

Rosie, portrayed by Benay Higgs, attempts to persuade her boyfriend, Albert Peterson, played by Mark Baker, to give up his musical interests for English teaching and marriage. His client, Conrad Birdie, played by Harold Yanekelevitz, is drafted into the Army.

Other major roles are filled by Betsy Ebert, as Mrs. Peterson; Linda Broadwater, as Kim McAffee; Bill Fridinger, as Hugo Peabody; Jane Zimowski, as Ursula Merkle; Bray Perry and Sandy Serf, as Mr. and Mrs. McAffee; John Koegel, as the mayor; Ethel Moffatt, as the mayor's wife, and Jack Paulman, as Randolph.

Line director for the play is Mrs. Julia Blough. Stage director is Miss Betsy Rankin. Vocal music is under the direction of Miss Carole Reith and Miss Mary Robb. Dance director is Mrs. Peggy Mackert. The orchestra is under the direction of S. Lua Syckes.

Supporting the performers are adult and teenage choruses and a group of dancers. There also are ticket sales, program, costume and scenery committees.

Area Firemen Mark Death Of President

Hold Memorial At Meeting

A memorial service for the late President John F. Kennedy was held yesterday at the regular meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association at Ellerslie Fire Hall. Felix Foote, chaplain, conducted the service.

Luther Metz, Barton, president of the association, requested all member companies to drape their fire halls in observance of the 30-day national mourning period.

Representatives of 22 companies and 13 past presidents attended the meeting hosted by the Ellerslie Fire Company.

25 More Needed

Homer Ambrose, insurance chairman, advised that 25 more applications are needed in order to obtain group life insurance for the association. He requested new applications be made before December 30 when the grace period expires. September 1 was set as due date yearly for insurance payments.

Basic courses offered by Fire Services Extension of University of Maryland are being conducted by Frostburg and Corriganville fire companies. William Vogtman is instructor at Frostburg and Joseph Stuckey at Corriganville. Volunteers from other departments should contact them regarding nights courses are held.

Each department was requested to conduct a fire prevention program on Christmas tree care within its community. A list of precautions to be observed will be carried in the monthly bulletin and each company is asked to distribute the list in its community.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of providing associate memberships in the association and to prepare by-laws to cover such memberships to be presented at the next convention in June. The Wellersburg Fire Company is seeking to join the association but present by-laws limit membership to Allegany and Garrett county fire companies. Willis Wilson, Bedford Road, was named chairman. Other members are Michael Walters, Corriganville, Felix Foote, Lonaconing, William Smith Sr., Westernport and Homer Ambros, McCoole.

300 Cannisters Used

Alvin Rankin, muscular dystrophy drive chairman, reported 300 cannisters have been distributed in both counties. They are to be returned at the January meeting which will be held in Luke.

Cromwell Zembower reported that a special committee of the State Legislative Council appointed to study the possibility of a separate office for fire marshal in the state, will recommend that this be done at the next session of the legislature. The fire marshal's office is presently included under Insurance Commission. Sen. George R. Hughes Jr. is a member of the committee.

A past treasurer's badge was presented to Mr. Rankin who served that post for ten years and a treasurer's badge was presented to Francis Fatkin, presently serving in that position.

The Ellerslie firemen prepared and served dinner following the meeting.

Area Jails May Result From Probe

Legislative Group Plans Investigation

BALTIMORE (AP) — A legislative committee plans to begin an investigation of Maryland jails within the next month or so. Out of the probe may come a system of regional jails for small counties.

Sen. Edward O. Weant Jr., D-Carroll, chairman of the Legislative Council Committee on Prison Administration, said his unit will begin the investigation in December or January.

Gov. Tawes requested the probe.

"There have been numerous complaints in recent years," said Weant. "There is definitely room for improvement."

Some county jails are more than 80 years old. A 1962 state inspection showed their prisoner populations ranged from 2 in St. Marys County to 1,560 in Baltimore City.

Separate jails are maintained by the city and each of the 23 counties.

Weant said possible solutions to the problem of substandard jails include the creation of regional jails for counties too small to bear the expense of modernization.

Under the licensing system the Department of Correction would be empowered to require improvements. It now inspects jails but lacks authority to enforce its recommendations.

Four Persons Badly Hurt In Area Crashes

Several Treated In Hospitals

Four persons were admitted and several others treated in area hospitals over the weekend in a series of accidents in nearby Mineral County.

One local man was seriously and another slightly injured when the car in which they were riding crashed on W. Va. Route 28 at the Miltenberger Straight early yesterday morning.

The accident occurred about 12:30 a.m. as a car driven by Timothy Jude McGreevy, 22, of 266 North Mechanic Street, was en route to Romney, W. Va.

Mr. McGreevy was treated in Memorial Hospital here for a laceration on the side of the head.

James Schute, 22, of 633 Bedford Street, Cumberland, riding with him, was thrown from the car and was admitted to Memorial Hospital for treatment of a possible back injury. He was reported in "fair" condition last night.

Another passenger, James Rosenmarkle, 823 National Highway, LaVale, was uninjured.

Trooper Donald Elmore, of the Keyser state police detachment, who is investigating, said he was told McGreevy was attempting to pass another car which stopped on the highway.

He said McGreevy reported that as he pulled out, his car struck the other vehicle and was pushed to the left of the highway and over a bank, stopping in a wooded area. Witnesses said the car narrowly escaped striking a tree. The vehicle was described as a total loss.

The injured men were brought to the hospital here by the McDonald ambulance service.

Hits Embankment

An Arlington, Va., woman was injured yesterday afternoon when the car she was driving crashed on U. S. 50 at the foot of Allegany Front.

She was identified as Miss Sandra Corbitt, 26, who was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

Miss Corbitt was reported in "fair" condition and was suffering from a laceration of the forehead, bruises and a possible knee injury.

Cpl. F. W. Armstrong, who investigated, said Miss Corbitt was injured about 3 p.m. when the car she was driving skidded on the wet highway about eight miles from Keyser and hit an embankment.

A Keyser man was seriously injured about 9 p. m. Saturday in an accident on Route 46, the Fort Ashby Road, near the Crites Trading Post No. 2.

He is Ernest Webster Walker, about 39, of Keyser, who was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital for the treatment of undetermined injuries. He was reported in "fair" condition yesterday.

State Police said he was a passenger in a car being driven east on Route 46 by Frank True, 26, of Keyser, who ran off the road, through a fence and into a field.

A wrecker summoned from Keyser to move the damaged car was later struck by a car driven by Richard Rilley, of Route 1, Keyser.

Cpl. Armstrong is investigating.

Truck, Car Collide

One man was admitted to the Keyser hospital Saturday after a truck-car collision at the junction of old and new U. S. 220 just south of Keyser.

The accident occurred at 4:30 p. m. as a pulpwood truck operated by Charles Herod Mathias, 18, Wardensville, collided with a car driven by Leonard Combs Cook, 57, of 178 Center Street, Keyser.

Trooper Elmore, who is investigating, said the accident occurred when Cook, coming out of old Route 220, failed to yield the right of way.

Mr. Mathias was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital and released yesterday following treatment for cuts and lacerations of the head and bruises.

A passenger in the truck, Bruce Walker, of Wardensville, was uninjured.

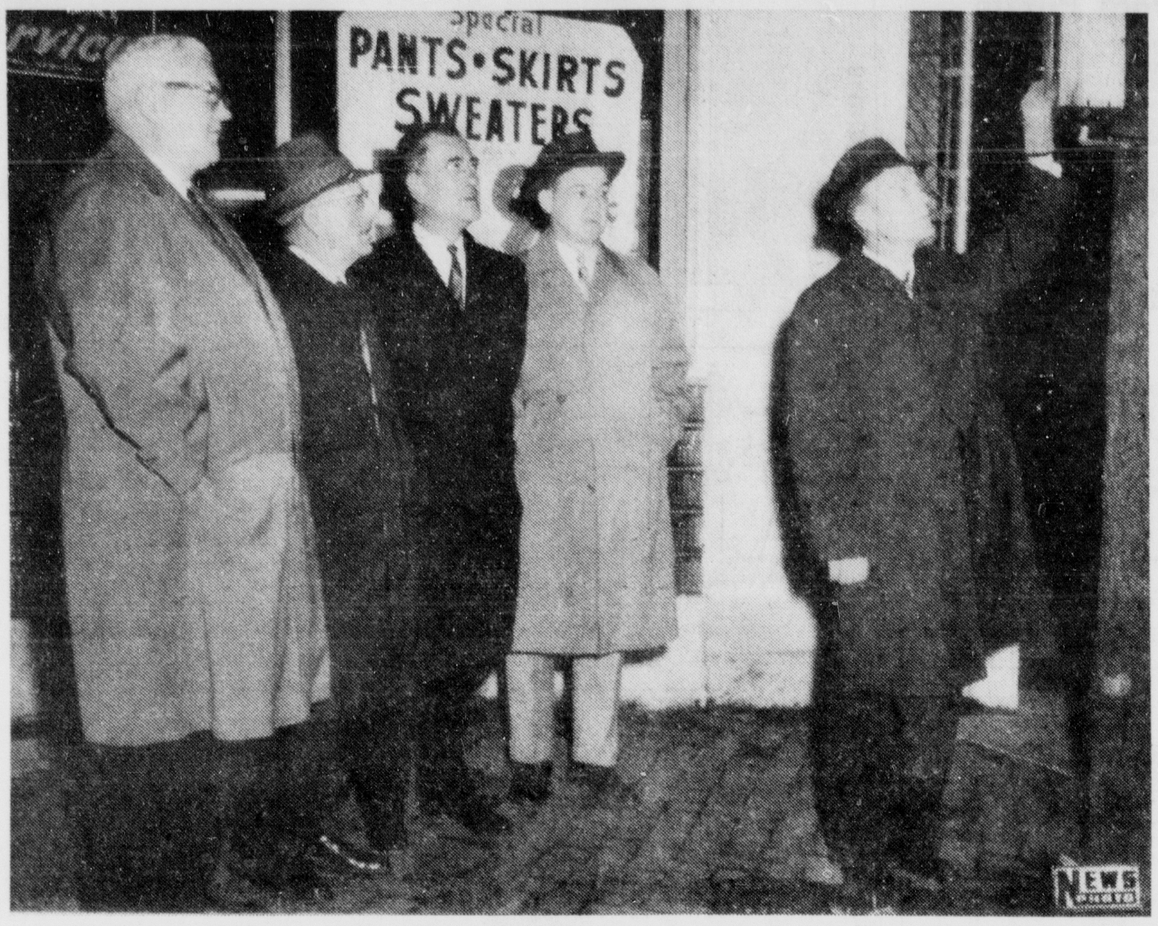

Traffic on Route 220 was tied up for an hour after the accident.

Boy Scout Board To Meet Thursday

The combined November-December meeting of the board of Potomac Council No. 757, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at the council office on North Mechanic Street at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Victor D. Heisey, council president, urges all members to be present.

South End Christmas Lights Turned On Again

These leaders of the South Cumberland Business and Civic Association were on hand Thanksgiving night when the Virginia Avenue Christmas decorations were turned on for the first time. Pulling the switch is William B. Orndorff, retiring president of the association. Looking on, left to right, are Marcus A. Naughton, George Millenson, James F. Scarpelli, members of the yule decoration fund committee, and Quentin M. Rice, president-elect of the association. Others unable to attend the ceremony were Blair E. Ullery, financial secretary; Carl R. Amtower, another decoration committee member, and Floyd G. Harner, vice president-elect.

Storm Deposits Heavy Snowfall In Mountains

The snow emergency plan was lifted yesterday morning in Garrett County as State Roads Commission crews moved the last of some 12 inches of snow from main highways.

The safety plan, which requires the use of good snow tires or chains, was invoked for the first time this fall Friday night as heavy snow began to blanket all highways west of Eckhart.

Primary roads in Garrett County were entirely bare last night but were slippery in spots and secondary roads were about 75 per cent bare.

But authorities were still advising motorists to drive with care because of the presence of occasional slippery spots on all of the highways.

The snowfall, the second of the season in Garrett County, arrived on the eve of Saturday's full moon, which painted a chilly picture in the state's westernmost county yesterday afternoon as the thermometer slipped to the low 20s.

The heavy snowstorm arrived three weeks before the official opening of winter, which is due to arrive December 22 at 9:02 a. m.

The area's first snowstorm moved into the area on November 2 and brought blizzard-like conditions in the mountain areas and left about two inches of snow in the higher sections.

No new snow was reported falling in Western Maryland last night but Pennsylvania State Police said snow was reported in the Johnstown area.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike was free of snow last night and occasional traffic tie-ups were reported due to the heavy traffic and not to weather conditions.

The weekend storm was aggravated by high winds which brought drifting and poor visibility in some parts of Garrett County.

City Provides Many Vital Services For Building Fee

One of the bigger bargains offered by the City of Cumberland is the series of services provided when someone applies for a building permit.

The first service, in the case of a new building, is a study to determine if the structure, as planned, meets the requirements of the city's zoning ordinance.

If the plans fail to comply, the prospective builder is advised of the deficiencies and suggestions may be made for changing the plans so they will conform.

If no agreement is possible, the permit is disapproved and the builder advised to appeal to the Board of Zoning Appeals.

The builder will be advised by the City Engineering Department, before the permit is granted, whether water and sewer facilities are available and, if possible, of city plans for improvement of the street in case it is unimproved.

The net result is that the builder has reasonable assurance, once the permit is issued, that he can proceed with the construction stage of the project.

The present procedure calls for the prospective builder to pick up building permit application papers at City Hall, fill them in and submit the completed application, along with a set of plans.

Builders should also make application at the same time for a sewer permit, since sewer information must be cleared before a building permit can be issued.

Some of the questions which will be answered in connection with the application for a sewer tap is whether a sewer line is available, whether a tap is in and the amount of the sewer lien, if any, which is charged against the property.

When the builder is ready, a four-man survey crew stakes out the sewer connection. No additional charge is made for this service.

Applicants are urged to find the sewer tap before excavating for the foundation. One of the chief reasons for doing this first is to make sure that there is enough fall.

Officials point out that it usually takes three days to get all the information needed to issue a building permit. More time is needed if the building is large, since plans must be inspected to make sure they meet building and fire code requirements.

The first inspection during construction involves the footer, which Building Inspector George Scarlett checks for set back and side yards and the size of the footer in relation to the building.

He will check the site and suggest test borings in case the structure is to be built on a fill area or on unsuitable materials.

The next inspection is made after the foundation is in and the building is under roof. This involves a check on the layout, to make sure that provisions are made for windows and that good construction materials and methods are being followed.

Another check is made after sanitary and storm sewer lines are in place but before they are covered.

For the building permit fee, now $2 for each $1,000 of declared value, the city provides from four to eight inspections by the building inspector and for any needed services of the city engineer.

The inspections are made to check on the builder's compliance with the city's codes and regulations and to make sure that good materials and construction methods are being used but have nothing to do with the design of a building.

Fire Company To Elect

The Bowling Green Fire Company will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the fire hall. Officers for 1964 will be nominated.

High Pressure Water Line Breaks Here

Water Department crews were called out at noon yesterday after a high-pressure line broke at the intersection of Memorial and Kent avenues, according to Commissioner G. Ray Light.

He said Herbert Stallings, water superintendent, reported the line was back in service by 4:30 p. m.

Workers found the six-inch water main coming from the Fort Hill water tank was broken clear around.

The Water Department is continuing its relentless task of finding and stopping leaks in water system it serves.

Commissioner Light said that a Water Department crew recently repaired a leak in a two-inch line at the intersection of Avenue O and M in Potomac Park. Since the line is located outside the city, costs were charged to affected property owners.

He said several leaks were found on private property and that customers were asked to make prompt repairs.

Another Water Department crew last week began installing about 250 feet of six-inch water main on Beechwood in the White Oaks section. The line will be extended, Mr. Light said, as the area builds up.

Trainmen Will Discuss Award At Meeting

Mountain Division Lodge No. 267, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will read and discuss last Tuesday's presidential arbitration board's award at a meeting at 120 Arch Street at 12:30 p. m. today, according to James R. Corley, president.

All members are urged to attend and members of other brotherhood lodges will be admitted.

Arbitration Board No. 282 ruled in Washington last Tuesday that eventually 90 per cent of the firemen's jobs on freight trains and yard engines should be eliminated because their duties can be handled by other members of the crew.

The board made it clear that its attrition plans would work gradually and displace only a "comparatively small" number of the 40,000 railroad firemen during the two years it will be binding on carriers and union.

A copy of the arbitration award will be available for examination by members of the lodge this afternoon.

Minor Boys Face Hearings

Three minor boys arrested by city police last week in connection with car thefts are slated for hearings today in Allegany County Juvenile Court.

Police said two of the boys were released three months ago from the Maryland Training School, where they had been sent for the same cause.

Police said a fourth boy involved in the case had not been in trouble before.

All four, police said, were involved in the theft of a car last Tuesday from the B & O parking lot at Offutt Street.

They said the same car was stolen on Thanksgiving night by three of the boys and driven to Lonaconing. They were rounded up that night by Cpl. Murl Boggs, Detective Kenneth Morrissey and Officer Robert Hershberger.

Conrad is to kiss the president of the Sweet Apple, Ohio, chapter of the Conrad Birdie Fan Club before he goes into the Army.

Rosie, portrayed by Benay Higgs, attempts to persuade her boyfriend, Albert Peterson, played by Mark Baker, to give up his musical interests for English teaching and marriage. His client, Conrad Birdie, played by Harold Yanekelevitz, is drafted into the Army.

Area Firemen Mark Death Of President

Hold Memorial At Meeting

A memorial service for the late President John F. Kennedy was held yesterday at the regular meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association at Ellerslie Fire Hall. Felix Foote, chaplain, conducted the service.

Luther Metz, Barton, president of the association, requested all member companies to drape their fire halls in observance of the 30-day national mourning period.

Representatives of 22 companies and 13 past presidents attended the meeting hosted by the Ellerslie Fire Company.

25 More Needed

Homer Ambrose, insurance chairman, advised that 25 more applications are needed in order to obtain group life insurance for the association. He requested new applications be made before December 30 when the grace period expires. September 1 was set as due date yearly for insurance payments.

Basic courses offered by Fire Services Extension of University of Maryland are being conducted by Frostburg and Corriganville fire companies. William Vogtman is instructor at Frostburg and Joseph Stuckey at Corriganville. Volunteers from other departments should contact them regarding nights courses are held.

Each department was requested to conduct a fire prevention program on Christmas tree care within its community. A list of precautions to be observed will be carried in the monthly bulletin and each company is asked to distribute the list in its community.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of providing associate memberships in the association and to prepare by-laws to cover such memberships to be presented at the next convention in June. The Wellersburg Fire Company is seeking to join the association but present by-laws limit membership to Allegany and Garrett county fire companies. Willis Wilson, Bedford Road, was named chairman. Other members are Michael Walters, Corriganville, Felix Foote, Lonaconing, William Smith Sr., Westernport and Homer Ambros, McCoole.

300 Cannisters Used

Alvin Rankin, muscular dystrophy drive chairman, reported 300 cannisters have been distributed in both counties. They are to be returned at the January meeting which will be held in Luke.

Cromwell Zembower reported that a special committee of the State Legislative Council appointed to study the possibility of a separate office for fire marshal in the state, will recommend that this be done at the next session of the legislature. The fire marshal's office is presently included under Insurance Commission. Sen. George R. Hughes Jr. is a member of the committee.

A past treasurer's badge was presented to Mr. Rankin who served that post for ten years and a treasurer's badge was presented to Francis Fatkin, presently serving in that position.

The Ellerslie firemen prepared and served dinner following the meeting.

Legislative Group Plans Investigation

BALTIMORE (AP) — A legislative committee plans to begin an investigation of Maryland jails within the next month or so. Out of the probe may come a system of regional jails for small counties.

Sen. Edward O. Weant Jr., D-Carroll, chairman of the Legislative Council Committee on Prison Administration, said his unit will begin the investigation in December or January.

Gov. Tawes requested the probe.

"There have been numerous complaints in recent years," said Weant. "There is definitely room for improvement."

Some county jails are more than 80 years old. A 1962 state inspection showed their prisoner populations ranged from 2 in St. Marys County to 1,560 in Baltimore City.

Separate jails are maintained by the city and each of the 23 counties.

Weant said possible solutions to the problem of substandard jails include the creation of regional jails for counties too small to bear the expense of modernization.

Under the licensing system the Department of Correction would be empowered to require improvements. It now inspects jails but lacks authority to enforce its recommendations.
